"Study as if you could never reach the point you seek to attain, and hold on to all you have learned as if you feared to lose it."

The wet and anti-World Court constituencies of the West don't appear to have learned that the tariff is to be the issue.

A prominent Washingtonian lands the District Commissionership and gets his name in print.

If the Attorney General is correctly reported in holding that the Federal government can't investigate a murder in a sovereign State he probably doesn't regard the Mer Rouge case as a precedent.

In pointing with pride to the remarkable economic accomplishments of his three years in office President Coolidge inadvertently omits mention of that rainstorm last week which saved the Kansas corn crop and Charlie Curtis' seat in the Senate.

Secretary Mellon is in Rome, where if he so desires he can meet a poor man who has more power than all the multi-millionaires Pennsylvania has produced from William Penn to William Vare.

"It's always fair weather, When good fellows get together."

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler prudently decides to postpone his prohibition singing until the day after the next presidential election—the tune then may be,

"How dry I am, how dry I am, Nobody knows how dry I am."

The Pan-Asian Congress is disrupted by a battle among the delegates. A peace conference would be a pretty good thing if the world could afford any more wars.

Blessings on thee, bareheaded girl, With thy bobbed hair in a curl, And thy knobby-looking knees Kissed by every passing breeze.

Since those new-style long dresses don't seem to be coming in very fast, here's a way to prevent freckles that ought to be of timely interest to every flapper.

The Wall Street reporter who let everybody else in on the General Motors scoop without finding out about it himself is understood to be the only person in New York who didn't clean up on the big beat.

The Williams college junior who walks around for a week with a broken back before he finds it out is in a position to appreciate how a Briand ministry feels.

Perhaps, as Mr. Firestone says, the Philippines could produce all the rubber the United States needs, but what's the idea of becoming dependent on a supply that might be cut off overnight by an enemy fleet?

Lady Astor feels quite at home in a Penobscot bay fog and can't tell which it reminds her of most, dear old Lunnon or a debate in the House of Commons.

Mussolini in his imperial might reaches out and grabs control of all the sports and amusements in Italy. If this aggrandisement of power continues he'll soon be almost as potent as Keweenaw Mountain Landis or Will H. Hays.

Secretary Kellogg lifts the embargo on exports of nonmilitary aircraft for Mexico. This is a type of plane so constructed that when a T. N. T. bomb is dropped out of it the law of gravity is suspended and the missile floats off harmlessly into space.

Kentucky furnishes the sensational murder of a minister and a lady member of the choir, but without those spicy details calculated to crowd the New Jersey case off the front pages of the New York Terrible Tabs.

The question of Philippine independence is taken up by what Don Marquis would call "the little group of serious thinkers" at Williams-town. There'll be plenty of time to read up on this subject when the debate starts in Congress.

Bishop Miller, of the M. E. church of Mexico City, can't resist the impulse to fan the flames of religious controversy. He probably doesn't stop to think where a blast of that kind might spread.

SENATOR WILLIAMS LEADS IN MISSOURI PRIMARY CONTEST

Hawes, Democrat, Sees Early Vote Cut by Country Figures.

WALTON RUNS BEHIND THOMAS IN OKLAHOMA

Herrell and Curtis Both Are Renominated to Senate With Little Opposition.

(By Associated Press.) Two U. S. Senators—Curtis of Kansas and Harrell, of Oklahoma, Republicans—were renominated in yesterday's primary elections and Senator George H. Williams, Republican, of Missouri, was leading his opponents on incomplete returns last night.

Senator Curtis, majority leader in the Senate, had little opposition in Kansas. His opponent was Nick Chiles, a negro editor of Topeka.

Renomination of Senator Harrell in Oklahoma was conceded. No strong campaign was waged against him.

Early returns from the Missouri primary gave Senator Williams a good lead over David M. Proctor, of Kansas City, a dry candidate, and Blodgett Priest, of St. Louis, a wet. Senator Williams declared in his campaign that liquor was not an issue. He asserted he personally was opposed to the eighteenth amendment, but declared for strict law enforcement.

Henry B. Hawes, of St. Louis, former representative, and a wet, was leading in the Missouri race for the Democratic nomination for senator.

Walton's Race Close.

J. C. (Jack) Walton, deposed governor of Oklahoma, was running behind Representative Elmer Thomas in the Democratic contest for the Senate in Oklahoma on early returns but the race was close.

Gov. Ben. S. Paulen, Republican, of Kansas, was renominated. Donald Muir, attorney of Anthony, had a slight lead over former Gov. Jonathan M. Davis on meager returns from the contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Both Representative John M. Evans, Democrat, in the First district, and Scott Leavitt, Republican, in the Second district, were well in the lead of all opponents.

In Kansas all the incumbents in the lower house of Congress, who had opposition, were ahead.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—George H. Williams, St. Louis, incumbent, was leading both wet and dry opponents for the Republican nomination for United States senator for short and long terms on the face of early primary returns tonight.

Williams, who has contended that prohibition—Missouri's dominant issue in the primary—was not a political question, has declared

Man Held in Italian Plot Enters Appeal

Rome, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—An appeal against the indictment of former Deputy Zamboni on charges of plotting to assassinate Premier Mussolini has been entered by the defense counsel, based on various legal technicalities. This makes necessary a verdict by the court of cassation before a trial is possible.

Zamboni was arrested last October in a hotel room overlooking the balcony of the Chigi palace, from which the premier was to deliver an address. The police said he was armed with a rifle.

Divorce of Jolson Denied by Comedian

Paris, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Al Jolson, well known comedian, today denied categorically reports that either he or his wife, Mrs. Alma Osborne Jolson, has secured a divorce in Paris. Mr. Jolson, talking to a representative of the Associated Press, also denied that either he or his wife had entered suit for a divorce.

Mrs. Jolson, who accompanied the comedian on a trip to Paris last month, departed suddenly for the United States on the Berengaria Saturday. Jolson plans to sail August 10. Friends of the Jolsons said that the comedian's wife had not given any explanation for her sudden departure.

RENOMINATED

SENATOR CURTIS, OF KANSAS.

STANFIELD MAY MAKE RACE AS INDEPENDENT

Will Decide After Study of Political Conditions in Oregon.

BENEFIT TO HANEY SEEN

Senator Robert Nelson Stanfield, Republican, of Oregon, recently defeated in the senatorial primary, is giving serious thought to running for the Senate in November as an independent.

The senator is not yet willing formally to announce his candidacy, but he departed from Washington yesterday to make a survey of political conditions in his State. If he finds things to his liking he undoubtedly will issue a statement of his intentions upon his return here next month.

Observers of Oregon politics are watching Stanfield closely, believing that his decision is fraught with possibilities. Of major importance is the prospect that with Stanfield running as an independent, Bert E. Hanev, of Portland, the Democratic senatorial candidate, would stand an excellent chance to win.

The election of a Democratic senator from Oregon in November concededly would be a blow to Republican hopes to retain control of the next Senate.

Both Hanev and Frederick Stelwer, of Pendleton, the Republican who defeated Stanfield in the primary, are drys and the prohibition question does not figure prominently in their contest, but if Stanfield should run the question of modification would be presented squarely to the voters.

Mr. Stanfield always has been regarded as a dry. In fact, he had dry support until the recent primary when the Antisaloon League of Oregon lined up solidly for Stelwer. Therefore, friends of Senator

MacMillan's Party Crosses Arctic Circle

Portland, Maine, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—The MacMillan expedition crossed the arctic circle Saturday night. A radiogram received here today added that the Bowdoin and Sackham had reached Disko, the objective in southern Greenland, and it was planned to turn south in a few days, cruising along Baffin land and the Labrador coast.

The message was picked up by Kenneth M. Gold, of Holyoke, Mass., a member of the American Radio Relay league.

SUSPECT IN MURDERS KILLS SELF WITH GUN

Jealous Suitor, Facing Arrest for Slaying Girl and Escort, Ends Life.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—A single bullet, left in a pistol, which authorities claim was used in the midnight killing of Otto Itin, 19, and Mamie King Metzger, 30, twice a divorcee, today ended the life of Raymond Ross, 25, farmer of near Felicity, Ohio, just as he was about to be arrested for the dual murder.

Ross, a suitor for the affections of Mrs. Metzger, shot himself through the head as Sheriff Fred Crosswell, of Clermont county, and Marshal B. Edward Colvin, of Felicity, approached his house.

Itin and Mrs. Metzger visited friends last night. As they neared Rural they drove into the driveway of the home of Joseph Broadwell. A little later five shots were heard by the Broadwell family, who found both bodies in Itin's automobile, shot through the heart.

STATE SOVEREIGNTY NATIONAL STRENGTH, COOLIDGE ASSERTS

In Radio Speech, Lauds Colorado for Its Self-Reliance.

ADMINISTRATION SEES POLICIES SUCCESSFUL

Last Three Years Called the Most Prosperous in U. S. Leaves Camp Today.

Paul Smiths, N. Y., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—The sovereignty of the States which go to make up the nation, was held up as a source of great strength to the Federal government today in an address by radio exercises at Denver, celebrating the semicentennial of Colorado's admission to Statehood.

Speaking into a telephone at his vacation office, Mr. Coolidge had his words carried by long-distance wires to Denver for broadcasting through the ether, the address being the first of any kind he has made since he came to the Adirondacks nearly four weeks ago.

Mr. Coolidge hailed Colorado as a State that "always has been progressive," declared that "she stands out like a beacon in the history of woman suffrage" and praised "the majesty of her scenery" and "the wonderful balm of her climate," yet he asserted her "chief treasure was the principle of local self-government."

"This celebration is exceedingly appropriate at this time," he added. "The nation is inclined to disregard altogether too much both the functions and the duties of the States. They are much more than subdivisions of the Federal government. They are also endowed with sovereignty in their own right. Of course, one of their chief glories lies in the fact that they are all partakers of the American spirit, all a part of the American nation, but a great deal of the strength of the Federal government lies in the fact that the States have the power to function locally and independently, subject only to the restrictions which they themselves have invoked by adopting the national Constitution."

Must Guard Local Power.

"This fiftieth anniversary is in celebration of that principle. It was 50 years ago that Colorado put off the garb of a Territory almost exclusively under the dominion of the national government and put on the robes of a sovereign American State. The great progress that it has made in these years has been in no small part due to the application of the principle of local self-government. Of all the wealth and eminence that this State has

Railroads to Oppose Grain Rate Reduction

Chicago, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—All railroads in the territory east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio river will protest the 6-cent grain rate reduction to the Eastern seaboard, recently announced by the Minneapolis and St. Louis railway. This decision was reached today at a meeting of rate representatives of the carriers.

The decision includes all of the Western trunk lines and means that all of the carriers will act as a unit in opposing the reductions.

Nephew of Murdered Bootlegger Is Slain

Chicago, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Joseph Saldo, 28, nephew of Joseph Lambert, bootlegger-jeweler who was murdered with a woman companion in front of the Derby inn a month and a half ago, was riddled by bullets from a passing automobile today, as he stood in front of his cigar store.

He died two hours later. Police laid the shooting to a continuation of liquor warfare.

3 Die, 1 Escapes as Balloon Basket Drops

Bedford, England, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Three passengers were killed when the basket dropped from a captive balloon at Kemptown, near here today.

The accident was caused by the gas bag breaking loose from its netting, releasing the basket. Of the four passengers, only one escaped with his life.

Motors Pass 213; Steel Joins the Upward Rush

New York, Aug. 3 (By the Associated Press).—The rising tide of stock prices swept onward with increasing force today under the impetus of feverish speculative activity in the market leaders—General Motors and United States Steel. Impressive buying demonstrations carried both issues to record heights—General Motors up 12 3/4 points to 213 1/4 and Steel up nearly 6 points to 153, with closing quotations only fractionally below these levels.

Total sales, exceeding 2,700 shares, were the largest since the series of "3,000,000-share days" which marked the severe break in stock prices last spring.

Trading in Steel and General Motors was of record-breaking proportions, transactions in each issue aggregating nearly 350,000 shares and dwarfing the dealings in other stocks.

ITALY'S SPORTS PLACED UNDER FASCIST ORDERS

Public Manifestations to Be Controlled; Ceremonies Must Be Approved.

ASSOCIATIONS REVISED

Rome, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Premier Mussolini's plans to direct the entire mental, spiritual and physical life of the Italian people into fascist channels took a long step forward today through the adoption of a decree providing the gradual elimination of all nonfascist public manifestations of an intellectual, sporting or charitable character.

The decree, which was adopted by the cabinet on the direction of the premier, also calls for the elimination of all ceremonies of commemoration and expressing honors for individuals.

The measure calls for "hindering" by means of official steps all such public manifestations which are not "within the orbit of the directive tendencies of the government."

All officially approved manifestations and ceremonies are to be limited to those effectively useful, and which, through the high character of the organizers and the availability of funds, "give guarantees of attaining the purposes for which they are intended."

One of the forerunners of today's decree has been a far-reaching reorganization of various sporting associations, notably the Automobile Club of Italy, the National Pugilistic Federation, and the Italian Football Federation. This reorganization is intended to remove disturbing elements and to put the directorates in close touch with the leaders of the fascist party.

Student Walks Week- With a Broken Back

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Edward Douglas Howard, of Chicago, a junior at Williams college, hobbled about with a cane for more than a week before physicians here discovered that he had a broken back.

He was strapped into a specially-made apparatus and taken to his father's summer home at Chautauque to recuperate. Physicians today said he would be able to play football in the fall of 1927.

Howard was injured when he dived into the shallow end of a pool at Williams. A short time later, while delirious, he leaped from a third-story window of the infirmary.

Butler to Do Singing After 1928 Election

New York, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, returned from a two months' European trip today to make cryptic remarks on his plans in respect to the coming political campaign.

"On the prohibition subject," he said, "I propose to do my singing on the day after the next presidential election."

A reporter suggested his views made him the logical candidate for governor, to which he replied, "Candidates are not the result of logic."

Jury Demands Facts In McPherson Case

Los Angeles, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—William H. Carter, foreman of the Los Angeles county grand jury, informed District Attorney Asa Keyes that he believed Keyes' action in "dropping" the Almie Semple McPherson investigation had placed that official in a "predicament."

Carter demanded that all evidence gathered in the case be placed before the grand jury.

EFFORTS AT PEACE CONTINUE SILENTLY IN MEXICAN CRISIS

Clergy Receive Credit for the General Quiet That Prevails.

SOME CHURCH OBJECTS REPORTED MISSING

Episcopate Denies Causing Clash and Defends Boycott Plans.

Mexico City, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Peace feelers by intermediaries seeking a solution of the apparent impasse between the government and Mexican episcopate, arising out of the government's strict enforcement of the religious regulations, continued to be put forth today, but so far as could be learned without result.

Meanwhile, the government has received assurances of support for its religious policy from two of the important figures in the Mexican political and military world—former President Obregon and Gen. Arnulfo Gomez, military chief of the state of Vera Cruz. Gen. Obregon is still looked upon as the idol of the army, while Gen. Gomez is a possible presidential candidate.

As on the preceding days the Mexican Catholics, despite their feelings, went about their usual tasks today, and on the surface there was nothing to indicate the seriousness of the religious controversy. Newspaper specials and government reports described disturbances in some sections, but from this information it appears that nothing serious has developed anywhere.

Clergy Present Trouble.

The government reports assert that the Catholic authorities themselves deserve credit for the maintenance of order.

Queretaro reports that seventeen persons—it is not specified whether they were priests—have been arrested charged with removing treasures and valuable objects from Catholic churches. The Mexico City authorities are investigating reports of municipal committees appointed to take over the churches that valuables are missing from many of the edifices, including the cathedral.

While the cathedral continues closed pending a further check of the inventory of its treasures, the other churches were open again today, although only a moderate number of worshippers were seen inside in Mexico City.

Thus far there is little or no evidence of the boycott under the auspices of the League for the Defense of Religious Freedom in Mexico City, although some commercial houses and retailers express apprehension that it may

Spanish Army Unrest Reported in France

Bordeaux, France, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Unrest among Spanish artillery and engineer corps is reported in advices reaching here from Spain.

Gen. Primo de Rivera, the Spanish dictator, is said to have caused the arrest of Gen. Montero and two colonels of the artillery and to have demoted Gen. Cabanals. They were punished, the dispatches say, for objecting to the premier's promotion method.

Ship Reported Afire Off Coast of Florida

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Coast guard cutter, No. 295, was dispatched to Venice, a resort near Sarasota, today on receipt of reports that a ship was afire off the coast there.

The cutter was expected to reach Venice at 2 p. m.

Severe Earth Shock Gives Tokyo Bad Scare

Tokyo, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—An unusually severe earthquake shook the city at 6:25 p. m. The populace was badly frightened and every one indoors ran into the streets. Thus far no damage has been reported.

The quake seems to have affected the Tokyo district principally. Several bridges were damaged and there were numerous landslides. Communications also were interrupted.

FIVE ARE HEAT VICTIMS BEFORE RAIN COOLS CITY

Temperature Drops 8 Degrees in Few Minutes During the Downpour.

MERCURY 96 AT PEAK

Five persons, prostrated from heat aggravated by the humidity, were treated at hospitals yesterday before a brief and heavy rain that, nearly a cloud-burst, in the late afternoon sent the mercury precipitately downward, eight degrees in a few minutes, and gave relief from a temperature that reached 96 degrees at its peak.

On account of the rain, which was prophesied by the weather bureau in its forecast of the night before, a cooler temperature may be expected today, it was announced last night. The forecast for today and tomorrow is fair. The weather man could not promise cooler weather for tomorrow.

The peak temperature recorded at the weather bureau was 96 degrees at 3 o'clock, but the kiosk on Pennsylvania avenue showed 98 degrees at 5 o'clock, just before the downpour. At the weather bureau the drop was from 94 degrees at 4 o'clock to 74 degrees at 6 o'clock.

Victor Lowenbaum, 22 years old, 1336 Massachusetts avenue northwest, was prostrated while waiting for a shave in a barber shop at 1123 Fourteenth street northwest. He was removed to his home and given treatment.

An unidentified colored man was picked up at Eleventh and F streets southwest at 5 o'clock and taken to Emergency hospital. His condition was reported serious. Earle F. Cornish, colored, 35 years old, was taken from 2532 F street northwest

Hospital May Compel Fasting Baron to Eat

Miami, Fla., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Baron Michael Royce-Garrett, whose wife, Vera, leaped to her death from the eighteenth floor of the Everglades hotel here last Friday night, may be forcibly fed if he persists in his refusal to accept food, hospital authorities said today.

Following a coroner's inquest yesterday, at which the baron was exonerated of all responsibility for the death of his wife, the former Russian nobleman was committed to jail for two days at his own request.

MINISTER AND CHOIR MEMBER SHOT DEAD

Slain While Singing Hymn at Opening of Revival Meeting in Kentucky.

Morgantown, Ky., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—An evangelist and choir singer are dead, slain as they sang the opening hymn at revival services, by an unidentified assassin, who fired through the window of the country schoolhouse where the meeting was in progress.

The Rev. W. A. Moss, 32, toppled from his pulpit, dead, and Mrs. Jerome Robinson, 30, died two hours after the shooting last night at the Early school, 12 miles from here. J. D. Young, 70, suffered a slight scalp wound and others in the meeting narrowly escaped. Mrs. Robinson's four children saw their mother fall.

Clifford Wilson, 30, a fugitive since his escape from jail here a year ago, was arrested at his home on the statement of a 14-year-old girl that he had fired the shots.

The girl fainting when the firing began and was unable to give additional details. Wilson denied the shooting.

DOUGHERTY TAKES OATH AS FENNING SUCCESSOR TODAY

Appointee Also to Reveal His Plans; Selection Recognizes Council.

NEW COMMISSIONER WILL DIRECT POLICE

Rudolph and Bell Are Pleased With Naming of Chevy Chase Resident.

Proctor L. Dougherty, active in the work of the citizens associations and member of the Citizens Advisory council, will take the oath of office as District commissioner at noon today and is expected to enter upon his duties immediately.

Mr. Dougherty's appointment to succeed Frederick A. Fenning was made known by President Coolidge at White Pine Camp, N. Y., yesterday.

The appointee brings to the District building a distinctive recognition of the personnel of the advisory council in the first two years of its creation. Long a delegate to the Federation of Citizens Associations, he was chosen for a council seat at the body's last election.

Although he had known that he was under consideration Mr. Dougherty was not formally apprised of his selection until several hours after it had been formally announced at the summer White House. Pending formal notification Mr. Dougherty remained in seclusion.

Will Tell Plans Today.

In the afternoon, however, following a conversation with Department of Justice officials, he communicated with Commissioner Rudolph and told of his plans to be sworn in today. Word was given to newspaper men who had sought him that he would discuss his plans with them this morning. Until that time he refused to be interviewed.

Over the telephone, as a matter of fact, he said he was talking from an outlying place and he would not reveal its location.

At the offices of the Otis Elevator Co., where he has long been employed in various capacities, lately as government representative, it was said he had been absent all of yesterday and the day before.

Throughout the afternoon he made occasional telephone calls to his friends, including Jesse C. Suter, chairman of the advisory council. Asked by Mr. Suter as to his whereabouts, Mr. Dougherty replied that it would be better for him not to know.

Statement Important.

The new commissioner is understood to have wanted to get off by himself and take stock of the problems awaiting him. There were indications that his statement this morning is to be more than an ordinary pronouncement. Whether it will reopen the famous Headley case or deal with the promiscuous use of firearms by the police—two problems immediately to face him—is conjectural.

Dougherty's induction into office today will come in the presence of departmental heads, who only slightly more than a year ago gathered to witness the induction of his predecessor. First the oath of office as commissioner will be administered by Daniel J. Garges, secretary of the board of commissioners, and then Earl V. Fisher, executive secretary, will administer the oath for the public utilities commission. His fellow members of the advisory council are also to be on hand.

To Be Police Head.

The new commissioner will take over the office vacated by Mr. Fenning and for the time being, at least, will have the administration of the same departments which Mr. Fenning had, the principal one of which is the police department.

Commissioner Cuno H. Rudolph and Engineer Commissioner J. Franklin Bell discussed the question of administration briefly in the light of Mr. Dougherty's appointment, and while it was said there may be minor readjustments after conference with their new colleague, no important change in the administrative organization is looked for.</

NAVAL COURT FINDS BOLT CAUSED BLAST AT LAKE DENMARK

Loss Placed at $47,000,000;
$40,000,000 Salvage Is Estimated.

HEROISM OF OFFICERS AND MEN IS PRAISED

Report Urges Rebuilding on Smaller Scale; Two New Depots Proposed.

(By the Associated Press.)

Although every known precaution had been taken, particularly against lightning, that element alone was responsible for the disastrous explosions July 10 at the Lake Denmark, N. J., naval ammunition depot.

This was the conclusion of the naval court of inquiry, headed by Rear Admiral Robert E. Coontz, whose report was approved yesterday by Acting Secretary Robinson just before he left for an inspection of the Yorktown, Va., ammunition depot.

The acting secretary announced that steps would be taken immediately to carry out recommendations of the court, which suggested that the Lake Denmark depot be repaired for use on a more limited scale and that Congress be asked to authorize establishment of two new depots with an area of at least 100 square miles each to serve the West coast and the east gulf coast sections.

Heroism Is Praised.

Heroism of the officers and men on duty at Lake Denmark at the time of the explosion was emphasized in the report. Twenty-three are known to have been killed, two were listed as "missing," and 52 were injured. Many of the survivors were recommended for decorations. The property loss, including plant and stores, was placed at $47,000,000, while the amount which may be salvaged was estimated at $40,000,000.

"The location of the depot, the type, number, location and protection of magazines, and the manner of storage of explosives therein," said the report, "were all in accordance with approved practice for governmental depots."

"Furthermore, there is no instance shown of any fault, negligence, or inefficiency on the part of any officer, enlisted man or civilian employee, either before, during or after the recent disaster."

After citing the heroism of the men on duty in their vain fight against the spread of flames and explosions, the board recommended that personnel be instructed hereafter "to avoid fighting heavy fires in high explosive magazines."

Depth Charges Exploded.

The board found that the first three explosions of great magnitude occurred in temporary magazines 8 and 9, and in shell house 32, where large quantities of T. N. T., cast depth charges or aerial bombs were stored.

At other points, where T. N. T., explosive "D," picric acid and smokeless powder were stored in bulk, however, they burned with work, and expressed pleasure at the announcement of Mr. Dougherty's appointment. He said:

"Mr. Dougherty's technical training, together with his wide business experience, qualifies him for the many duties of commissioner. As a civic leader he will have the interests of the city at heart. I am hopeful that he will have an early opportunity to familiarize himself with the departments that he will superintend."

Dougherty's Statement.

Similar utterance was given by Col. Bell, and it was pointed out that they have a common meeting ground in their profession of civil engineering. Mr. Dougherty is a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Technology.

"He will make an able, energetic and progressive commissioner," said Col. Bell.

Mr. Dougherty gave a brief statement to newspaper men over the telephone. It read:

"To be selected for the high office of commissioner of the District of Columbia is an honor I fully appreciate. The opportunity for service is great, while the burdens and responsibilities call for close application and hard work."

"I am a firm believer in the future of Washington and the patriotism of its citizens so that we should all move forward with one purpose to accomplish the tasks that lie before us."

Friends of the new commissioner, especially those who have followed his work on the advisory council, describe him as a conservative. When he made the race for the council he stressed the need of economy, lauding President Coolidge's policy in that respect. At that time he spoke of the need of improvements in Washington, especially as regards streets, but even on this subject the economy vein was apparent.

On the council he has been a supporter of the chairman, Jesse C. Suter, and served on the council's national representation committee. Thus he is understood to be an advocate of national representation but not in favor of local suffrage, not that his views on the subject will be of avail as a commissioner, however.

F STREET STORE TAILOR KILLS HIMSELF AT WORK

Solomon Fineman Uses Pistol on Balcony of Shop Where He Was Employed.

MYSTERY CLOAKS MOTIVE

Solomon Fineman, 52 years old, a tailor, shot and mortally wounded himself in the left temple with a .32-caliber revolver yesterday in the Metropolitan Clothing Shop, 920 F street northwest. He died in a police patrol en route to Emergency hospital. Coroner J. Ramsey Nevitt investigated and pronounced the death suicide.

Fineman resided at 20 Fourteenth street northeast, and had been employed at the F street establishment for two months. Members of his family were puzzled as to where he obtained the revolver and why he should have taken his own life. Other than the fact that he had been in ill health recently, no motive for the suicide could be advanced. He was apparently in good spirits when he left for work yesterday morning.

Shortly before 4 o'clock he left the tailoring rooms on the second floor. A few minutes later fellow-workmen were attracted to a balcony by the report of a pistol. There they found the body of Fineman and summoned police from the First precinct. Upon arrival at the hospital Dr. Joseph J. Larkin, of the Emergency staff, pronounced the man dead. He is survived by a brother and a sister.

Commercial National Bank is understood to have brought Mr. Dougherty to the attention of the President. He is a Republican, but there are indications that it was made wholly without the knowledge of the local Republican organization.

The President's search for a successor to Mr. Fenning was one of the most exhaustive that it has ever been necessary to conduct, and even when Mr. Dougherty came under consideration it is understood that he had to be persuaded to take the office.

Mr. Fenning's resignation became effective with the close of business Monday, and yesterday his secretary, Ralph Norton, was busy gathering up the commissioner's private papers. Mr. Fenning addressed communications to heads of the various departments under him expressing appreciation for the service they had rendered under him and wishing them well.

His plans for the future were not made known, but his friends professed to believe that he planned to retire from his professional career in a short while. Mr. Fenning is reputed to be wealthy.

Considerable private work lies before him incident to the removal of the guardianship of the world war veterans which the veterans' bureau plans under legislation enacted at the last session. These cases do not constitute the bulk of his practice by far, but are said to be the most remunerative.

Chamber Thanks Coolidge For Naming of Dougherty

President Coolidge last night was thanked by the board of directors of the Washington Chamber of Commerce for the appointment of Proctor L. Dougherty as District commissioner.

The board at its regular monthly meeting wrote a letter of congratulation to Mr. Dougherty and expressed its thanks to President Coolidge for the appointment of a commissioner "who, the board believes, is so nearly representative of the interests of the District of Columbia."

The board directed Mr. A. Leese, president, to appoint a special committee on market sites to study the question of removal of Center market and selection of another site. The committee will report to the September meeting.

Police Inspector L. J. Stoll reported yesterday on the conduct of Howard E. Ogle, Fourth precinct detective, in joining in a speeding automobile chase of bootleggers accompanied by flying bullets early Sunday morning.

Deaths From Traffic Accidents Fewer Here

Deaths from traffic accidents reached a low mark last month. There were only three. This, said Director of Traffic M. O. Eldridge, is the lowest July record in recent years. Last year and in 1924 there were seven and in July, 1923, there were fourteen traffic deaths.

Worth of Auto Parts in Garage Break.

Two motor bases, four crank-cases and other smaller parts of automobile machinery, valued at $400, were stolen yesterday from the garage of James H. Taylor, 512 Twenty-sixth street northwest. Entrance was gained by jimmying the rear door. Several other thefts were reported.

Earl D. Storking, 1265 Newton street northeast, left the rear door of his home open during the night and his trousers, containing $300 in bills, $15 in change and $2 in checks were stolen. Paul B. Steindors and Mason Ford, both of 1612 Twenty-sixth street northwest, reported that their rooms were entered and $68 was stolen from the former while the latter lost $10.

Arthur Carr, superintendent of the Mills building, Seventeenth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, reported the theft of two law books and an electric fan from two rooms in the building. Five automobiles, numerous jewelry and household fixtures were included in the other larceny reports.

Third Speeding Charge Nets Fine and 30 Days

William Edward Hall, 22 years old, of 1430 V street northwest, yesterday was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail and pay a fine of $100 for third-offense speeding. Hall was arrested by Policeman W. C. Lewis, of the traffic bureau, and is alleged to have been driving 30 miles an hour.

The case was prosecuted by Assistant Corporation Counsel Walter Fowler. Judge McMahon tried the case. This is one of the first cases to be tried by the corporation counsel's office for this charge.

Dirt Being Cleaned From 12-inch Main

A 12-inch water main extending from the Fort Reno reservoir to Georgia avenue northwest is being cleaned. Work was started yesterday by the District water department.

Dirt has settled in the pipe until the pressure has been reduced. Fluted steel scrapers, operated by water pressure, are being forced through it. Smaller mains will be cleaned later.

Franciscan Friars to Assist
by Celebrating Mass at 10 o'clock.

SPECIAL MUSIC PLANNED

St. Dominic, founder of the Dominican Order, will be honored today with elaborate ceremonies conducted by the Dominican Fathers of the Dominican House of Studies, 487 Michigan avenue northeast. Following a time-honored custom commemorating the lifelong friendship between St. Dominic and St. Francis, the Franciscan Friars from Mount St. Sepulcher will officiate at solemn high mass in the Dominican chapel.

Mass will be celebrated at 10 o'clock by the Rev. Forest McGee, O. F. M., custodian of the Franciscan monastery, with Father Paschal, O. F. M., as deacon, and Father Bonaventure, O. F. M., as subdeacon. The acolytes will be Brothers Gabriel and Malachy, and the thurifer Brother Thomas, all of the Franciscan monastery. Services will be attended by the superiors of the various religious houses associated with the Catholic university and by the professors and faculty of the Georgetown and Catholic universities.

Special music has been arranged for the occasion and will be rendered by the Dominican Fathers according to the Gregorian plain chant. The organist will be the Very Rev. Ignatius Smith, O. P. M., D., prior of the Dominican House of Studies. At the conclusion of the services, the Very Rev. Raymond Meagher, O. P. S. T. L., of New York, provincial of the Dominican Order in this country, will hold a reception for the guests. He will be assisted by the Very Rev. D. J. Kennedy, O. P. S. T. M.; the Very Rev. V. F. O'Daniel, O. P. S. T. M., and the Very Rev. Edward G. Fitzgerald, O. P. S. T. M., all of Washington. Later, the Very Rev. Ignatius Smith will be host to the visiting prelates at a dinner in the refectory of the Dominican convent.

MAYORALTY TRADED FOR ELECTION HELP, THOMPSON ASSERTS

Former Chicago Official Says Promise Made During Illinois Primary Campaign.

TELLS SENATOR REED HE SUPPORTED SMITH

Ludin, Neutral, Assails Press;
Negro Mayor Swung All
but Six Votes.

Chicago, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Some interesting sidelights on Illinois politics were received today by the Senate campaign funds committee.

Three men who bulk large in Republican party affairs in the State—William Hale Thompson, former mayor of Chicago; Frederick Ludin, of Lake, former member of Congress, and Homer K. Gelpin, chairman of the Crowe-Barrett group in Cook county, were the principal witnesses.

Only half a dozen others now remain to be examined, and Senator Reed (Democrat), Missouri, the committee chairman, who carried on alone today in the absence of Senator La Follette (Republican), Wisconsin, hopes to wind up the inquiry Thursday and adjourn the committee subject to his call.

Thompson, who came from California to testify, told Senator Reed that the Crowe-Barrett faction offered to support him for mayor next year if he would join forces with them in the county ticket which they had in the field. He joined them and supported Frank L. Smith for senator against Senator William B. McKinley, who was defeated.

Ludin testified that he took no sides in the senatorial fight, being against McKinley because he voted for war and for a "Cossack espionage act," and was opposed to Smith because of his failure to support a State political program in 1920 declaring against entangling alliances.

Voted For La Follette.

The former representative disclosed that he voted for Senator Robert M. La Follette in the 1924 campaign when Smith was chairman of the Republican State central committee and endorsed the national party platform calling for American entry into the world court.

Ludin assailed Chicago newspapers.

"millions of lies a day" and also charged that generally speaking leaders of political groups in Cook county could not be success- ful unless they become water car- riers for the newspapers.

Galpin testified that the leaders of his group were divided as between Smith and McKinley. He told of receiving large campaign contributions for use in support of the county ticket in Cook county, but all of them had been testified to before, so that nothing was added to the inquiry of 1924. He showed to have been raised for the entire campaign, Senate, State and county.

Called out of his turn because of illness, Rufus O. Shepperd, United States deputy marshal at East St.
Louis, told Senator Reed that L. E.
Fisher, whom he identified as an officer of a Studebaker concern, handled the campaign funds for McKinley in East St. Louis. Shepperd said he received $2,500 for use in 31 precincts in the city and several outside. Shepperd said he gave $200 to Bert Washington, negro mayor of Brooklyn, a suburb.
"Did he deliver?" asked Senator Reed.

"Yes, sir," Shepperd replied.
"Out of $66 votes cast McKinley got 860."

"About six went astray?"

"Yes, sir."

"You don't think there was any corruption in the count so that you lost six votes?"

"There was no corruption so far as I was concerned."

$300,000 in Jewels.

Paris, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—A divorces was registered today in favor of Mrs. C. P. Hugo Schoellkopf, of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Schoellkopf has been separated from her husband, a wealthy

Buffalo manufacturer, for three years.

New York, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—

Mrs. Irene M. Schoellkopf, of Buffalo, was the central figure in one of New York's most sensational jewel robberies.

The robbery occurred at a gay

New Year's eve party in 1922 in the apartment of Frank Barrett

Carmap, on West Fifty-second street, just off Fifth avenue.

Mrs. Schoellkopf was dragged from Carmap's apartment to a floor below and her gems, worth $300,-

000, were stripped from her by three men. Three men later were arrested and confessed. They received prison sentences. Most of the jewelry was recovered through a

"fence."

VICTORY FOR TROTSKY

Bucharin Says Dissident Elements Adopting Former

Moscow, Russia, Aug. 3 (By A.

P.).—Nikolai Bucharin, an official of the communist party, sees the dissident elements in the party, including Gregory Zinovieff, who was recently ousted from the political bureau, as following in the footsteps of Leon

Trotsky, the former war minister.

Declaring that Zinovieff, Kame-neff, Mme. Levine and others have openly and avowedly embraced Tro-tsky's "heretical" views regarding democratization of the party and other questions, Bucharin, who is called the "apostle of communism," says the drift of the opposition leaders is toward liquidation of the fundamentals of communism and the creation of a democratic regime within Russia.

"Zinovieff and Kamenef, who previously attacked Trotsky so bitterly, now have capitulated completely before their former foe, and Trotsky has emerged triumphant," he said.

LOST HALL-MILLS EVIDENCE CREATES PROSECUTORS' TILT

Simpson Charges Murderer
Aided in Escape; "Pig Woman" Placed Under Guard.

MIDDLESEX OFFICIAL SAYS ATTACK IS ALIBI

Appointee Asserts Fingerprints and Clews Destroyed;
Witness Goes Home.

Somerville, N. J., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Investigation into the murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor N. Mills four years ago resolved itself today into a controversy between the newly appointed special prosecutor and one of the prosecutors in the original investigation over the inquiry methods at the time of the murder.

The other developments during the day were the assignment of a New Jersey State trooper to guard Mrs. Jane Gibson, the "pig woman," upon whose testimony the State apparently is basing much of its case, from "any one trying to intimidate her," and an announcement by Gov. Moore that he has "new evidence," corroborating Mrs. Gibson's story.

Murderer Helped.
State Senator Alexander Simpson, special prosecutor appointed by the governor, issued a statement criticising the prosecuting authorities who conducted the first investigation. He said that the murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor N. Mills four years ago was the "four years in which to get away," but because the Rev. Hall's eyeglasses "which must have been fingermarked" were wiped, the public permitted to obliterate tracks at the scene, searches for fingerprints on the clothing and bodies were not made, a coroner's inquest was not held and witnesses were treated in such a manner as to make them hostile to the State's interests.

Prosecutor John E. Toolan, of Middlesex county, who was assistant to Prosecutor Joseph E. Stricker during the first investigation, replying to the criticism, said:

"I am wondering whether some one is trying to establish in advance an alibi for not solving this mystery."

Defends Past Action.

"I want to make clear Middlesex county's part in this investigation. The scene of the murder was in Somerset county. We could not direct; we could only make suggestions and collaborate. We did not hold the whiphand.

"I have no apology to make for any part I had in the investigation."

Former Prosecutor Stricker refused to comment upon the criticism, saying he had retired from public life.

Special Prosecutor Simpson found that important evidence was missing from the official files of the case, but said that he has enough to indict a woman and at least two men for the murder.

Convention Told That Crisis Is to Be Handled in No Unmistakable Way.

PAST SUPREME KNIGHT PRAISES MUSSOLINI

Has Done Italy Service, but Has Helped World More,
Says E. L. Hearn.

Philadelphia, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—The national convention of the supreme council, Knights of Columbus, in session here, intends to deal with the religious situation in Mexico in "no unmistakable way."

This assertion by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty, in opening the convention today, drew rounds of applause from the thousands of delegates.

"We are going to deal with the Mexican situation before this convention is over, and we are going to deal with it in no unmistakable way," declared Mr. Flaherty. "The present crisis is one of the most important things we will have to consider."

Tribute to Mussolini.

Pointing to four delegates from Mexico, seated in the front row, the speaker said:

"I pray to God that when this convention is over they will go back to their native land and be permitted to enter again."

"High tribute was paid Premier Mussolini, of Italy, by Edwin L. Hearn, past supreme knight. Speaking at a luncheon in honor of the national officers of the K. of C., Mr. Hearn declared that Mussolini was the outstanding figure in Europe."

"The world owes a debt to Mussolini which it does not comprehend," said Mr. Hearn. "If anything should happen to snuff out his leadership in Europe those vines that lead from Moscow would tangle and dominate the world. He will yet render better service to Italy than any other statesman. He has done great service to Italy, but he has done a greater service to the whole civilized world."

Cardinal Is Celebrant.

The convention was opened with pontifical high mass celebrated by Cardinal Dougherty, while around him were grouped lesser dignitaries of the church in their brilliant robes and groups of the Knights of Columbus.

In a sermon following the mass, Bishop Daniel J. Gercke, Tucson, Ariz., told the delegates that as the knights of old fought in behalf of the church, so the knights of today "will contest for eternal life." He recounted the history of the Knights of Columbus as one of "chivalry, honor and lofty ideals."

King Boris to Visit North Switzerland

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—King Boris of Bulgaria, who has been in Switzerland incognito, left Terriet today for northern Switzerland, driving his own automobile.

An Agency dispatch from Geneva last week said Boris' engagement to Princess Giovanna of Italy, was "considered an accomplished fact." There has been no confirmation of this report.

Pastor, Acquitted, Sues Eleven Deacons

Bluefield, W. Va., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—The Rev. S. B. Ogle, acquitted last week of charges of threatening to kill one of the deacons of the First Baptist church of Princeton, of which he formerly was pastor, has filed suits against eleven deacons of the church, asking $150,000.

The suits are the outgrowth of the trial. R. C. Sutherland, who Ogle was alleged to have threatened, was named as one of the defendants. The basis for the suits was not disclosed.

YOUR DAD'S HAIR IS TURNING GRAY

Why Shouldn't He Keep Up Appearance—Abreast of the Times?

WEALTHY MEN TAKE CARE OF THEIR HAIR

Probably the first time a person meets your Dad his gray hairs make them think he's old and unbecomingly folks nowadays shove him aside unless he's mighty securely fixed in his social and business position.

Look at the sleek, well groomed, aristocratic appearance of other parents and see if it isn't their hair and clean healthy looking scalp that sets off their appearance. Many a wife or daughter has taken home a bottle of Lee's Hair Tonic and massaged it into his scalp every night for a couple of weeks just to let him see the difference and change this tonic will bring about—gradually but surely—until you look close and all the dandruff is gone—gray hairs are gone—and just as surely as he uses it now and then he will never have a gray hair.

Leading druggists here guarantee it. You'll be amazed at his more youthful appearance. Isn't it worth it? It's a bottle at your druggist, or send dollar bill with name and address to Lee's Tonic Co., Brentwood, Md., for a bottle by return mail—Ad.

Episcopate Praises Calm Stand of Mexican People

Letter Blesses Them for Christian Spirit Displayed, and Expresses Belief Prayers Will Bring About a Worthy Solution.

Mexico City, Aug. 4 (By A. P.).—Archbishop Mora y del Rio and the Mexican episcopate have issued a letter to the Catholics expressing gratification that their attitude has not been one of anger. The letter reads:

"Beloved children: In these moments of terrible trouble in which you find yourselves, our fatherly feelings do not permit us to refrain from directing to you a few words of cheer."

"Your conduct has been worthy of all praise. The mere announcement of the cessation of services caused you to besiege the churches and prepare yourselves by receiving the holy sacraments."

"Heaven and earth have been able to understand that the Mexican people, despite its national sins and despite the many faults of its sons, is a profoundly Catholic nation, and that its members love their faith more than their own interests and lives."

"It has been a great consolation to us to note the assiduity with which you have prayed in the temples, despite the absence of your priests. Your refraining from prayer, united with that of the universal church and preceded by that of the Pope, will no doubt be accepted before the eyes of God and will bring peace to the consciences and to the union of the Mexican family."

"To your firmness in defending the rights of the church, you have united a degree of serenity, thus honoring the cause you are defending and thus bringing prestige to the name of the Mexican people before the entire world."

"All the world is looking on and congratulating you by means of effusive cables. All the world is awaiting a peaceful solution, which will be both worthy and definite of the lamentable religious conflict."

"The episcopate blesses you because you have understood that the dispositions adopted are only in obedience to fulfillment of the sacred duty of conscience. It blesses you because you have ranged yourselves on its side, and because, with your worthy and measured conduct, you have interpreted the episcopate's idea regarding the methods for again gaining your sacred rights and for insuring true peace."

"The episcopate is confident that you will not abandon the cause you are defending and that you will not deviate from the path on which you have started in respect to order and peace, being, as you are, fully persuaded that this is the spirit which should actuate all Christians and which is the doctrine we have taught you."

"The episcopate trusts that God will move the hearts of all Mexicans, especially those who can influence in a decisive way a solution of such grave problems, and that He will move them to commence the glorious task of saving our fatherland."

SILENT EFFORTS FOR PEACE CONTINUE IN MEXICO CITY

develop. In contrast, news from other sections of the republic shows that the boycott is spreading.

People are refraining from all possible expenditures in the hope of creating an economic crisis sufficiently serious to influence the government to modify its attitude.

There have been numerous joint debates with speakers representing both sides of the controversy, but thus far all have been peaceful.

The first debate in Mexico City was between the secretary of education, Dr. Jose Figueras, and Rene Capistran Gaxiola, one of the directors of the league for the defense of religious liberty, who is under bail awaiting formal trial on the charge of inciting the people to disturbance by means of the boycott.

This debate was conducted in a Mexico City theater and was largely attended by an orderly crowd. Each side cheered as points were scored. The broad general arguments put forward by the secretary of education were that the government was merely enforcing the constitution, which it must do or cease to be a self-respecting government; that the regulations do not interfere with the dogma, doctrines and fundamental spiritual qualities of religion, but merely prevented political activities under the guise of religion.

On the other hand the league speaker declared that the Catholic Church was singled out for persecution and that it was impossible to reconcile Catholic fundamentals with the government's requirements.

Bishops Answer Labor. The Catholic episcopate, replying in a statement to the manifesto issued Sunday by the Regional Confederation of Labor of chambers of commerce throughout Mexico, gives denial to the assertion of the confederation that complete liberty exists in Mexico. It also denies the statement that the crisis was brought on by the Catholic clergy of Mexico "systematically refusing to obey the laws and the constitution of the Republic and by urging the people to disobey them."

The statement says the economic boycott called by the National League for Defense of Religious Liberty was not the work of the clergy. It characterizes as untrue the confederation's insinuation that the Catholic Church "has acquired obligations with international capitalistic forces."

The statement is a peremptory denial to the statement of the confederation in a statement to defend liberty of thought while the confederation supports laws violating such liberty. "It is untrue that the economic boycott is the clergy's doing. However, such a boycott is not unjust, as the federation declares, because it is not unlawful not to buy and not to amuse one's self. Furthermore, the boycott is justified because, by the temporary economic crisis, it will at least temporarily settle a definite and deep moral crisis, compensating for it by transitory self-denial."

Grief Held Natural.

Nothing is more natural than for the Catholic to show his grief when his faith is being persecuted. Therefore, the clergy gives moral support to the movement although it did not originate with the clergy.

"It is candid for the confederation to admit that it maintains that a constitutional provision must deserve the reverence due to the sacredness of law, even if it is an outrage on natural rights and not an expression of the will of the people, but instead an expression of a crafty combination of armed groups."

The episcopate pronounced as absolutely untrue the confederation's insinuation that the Catholic Church "has acquired obligations with international capitalistic forces." It declares the confederation was "continuing its slanderous task to bring about a confusion of ideas with the purpose of misleading public opinion in Mexico as well as abroad."

Consul Tells of No Protest In U. S. Church Seizure

(By the Associated Press.) No mention of a protest was contained in a State Department statement, made public yesterday, summarizing the report of Consul General Weddell in Mexico City on the taking over by Mexican police of "the Church of England and San Jose," which belongs to the American Episcopal Church. Other dispatches have indicated that something approaching protest was made to the consul general by Bishop Creighton in Mexico City.

"Bishop Creighton informed the consul general that immediately after the occupation of the church by the police the authorities began taking an inventory of the property in the church," the department's statement said. "The police stated, in explanation of the seizure, that a declaration concerning the church had not been filed with the municipal council, but with the minister of government, and also that a list of responsible members of the church which had been submitted contained the names of ten men, but the names of eight men and two women only."

The consul general said the church was open Sunday for private worship. In control of a committee appointed by the municipal authorities, he added that the title deed to the church had been held by the Episcopal board of missions in New York and that taxes on the property had been paid since 1858.

The department gave no indication as to what its attitude would be. Presumably the embassy in Mexico City is fully advised and will do whatever it can practically.

U. S. Raises Its Embargo On Planes for Mexicans

(By the Associated Press.) The embargo on exports of non-military aircraft to Mexico was lifted today by Secretary Kellogg.

The decision to lift the embargo was reached some time ago, but it was effective yesterday through the issuance of orders to customs agents. At the same time the Treasury warned the agents that the ruling would not apply to aircraft "intended for hostile purposes of aircraft of a distinctly military type."

An embargo on the exportation of arms and munitions to Mexico has been in effect for several years, and it has been indicated that President Coolidge had no intention at present of modifying it.

There will be no export licenses required for exporting the nonmilitary aircraft.

Reed Predicts Fight On Vire Is Doomed

(By the Associated Press.) Senator Reed, (Republican), Pennsylvania, who was in Washington yesterday preparing for a European tour, declared that if a move is made to bar William S. Vare from the Senate, if he is elected, because of the Senate investigation of the Republican primary in Pennsylvania, it would be unsuccessful.

Nothing was revealed that reflected on Vare's integrity, he said, adding that the investigation had shown that only a rich man could afford to be a candidate for the Senate.

Passengers Removed From Stranded Liner

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Fifteen passengers and seven stewards today were taken off the Shipping Board steamer Governor John Lind in the harbor here and transferred to New Bedford. The steamer, en route to Boston from Santo Domingo, ran upon Hedge Fence shoal yesterday, but was refloated last night.

Her fuel was exhausted and she will be forced to remain here until fresh supplies arrive.

Sultan of Morocco To End French Visit

Paris, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—The sultan of Morocco, Mulai Youssef, who came to France at the invitation of the government, departed for home today.

He will stop at Bordeaux, Toulouse and Marseilles, sailing from the last named port Saturday.

CALLES' STEPS JUSTIFIED, SAYS METHODIST BISHOP

Cites Economic Boycott as Alleged "Meddling" in Nation's Politics.

ADMITS DRASTIC CONTROL AUTHORITY HELD LACKING

Chicago, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Bishop George A. Miller, resident bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Mexico City, declared in a statement today that "there is no religious persecution taking place in Mexico today."

The bishop, here on official church business, will return to Mexico in a few days. He had the statement made public by the world service commission of his church.

"It may be worth while to ask," said the bishop, "how it has come about that after 300 years of Catholic control of Mexico ending in 1821, and a hundred years of dominant influence on the part of that church in the affairs of government, it has at last become necessary for the best government that Mexico has ever had to use drastic means in the control of the ecclesiastical situation. There must be a reason, and there is."

"The reason is that the Catholic priests in Mexico have openly refused to comply with the law of the land and have persistently meddled in politics. They have now organized an economic boycott with the openly avowed purpose of bankrupting the present administration."

The bishop asserted that the Catholics have organized a "league for the protection of religious liberty" and that while the recent Eucharistic congress was "viewed with admiration and approval" by Protestants in the United States, the Catholic bishops protested against an effort to hold an interdenominational Protestant congress for all Latin America in Panama City and "made it impossible to hold a single session of this congress in Panama, compelling the gathering to meet in cramped quarters in a hotel in the Canal Zone."

Two Militia Fliers
Die in Plane Crash

Assistant War Secretary and
Gen. Patrick Witness
Tragedy at Langley.

Newport News, Va., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Capt. John H. Batty and Technical Sgt. James W. Cheesman, members of the 103rd Pennsylvania national guard, were killed instantly at Langley field this afternoon when their airplane crashed to the ground a short distance from the lighter-than-air hangar.

Assistant Secretary of War Henry Davidson, Jr., and Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the department's inspection, were at the hangar when the accident occurred.

Maj. Westover, commanding officer at the station, named a board of officers to make an inquiry into the crash and its cause.

Capt. Batty, who was engaged in the stock and bond business in Fox Chase, Pa., was 34 years old and single. He served during the world war as a pilot and later was located at Langley field and Ellington field, Tex. When the war ended, Capt. Batty was placed on the reserve list as a first lieutenant and later advanced to captain.

Sgt. Cheesman was 32 years old and resided in Philadelphia. He was single. Sgt. Cheesman was flight chief of the Flight A Pennsylvania guard unit. He served during the world war with the Second pursuit group of the A. E. F.

Two Drown as Italian Airship Lands in Sea

Rome, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Two officers of the dirigible N-2 were drowned today when they fell into the sea as the airship was forced to come down upon the water.

The dirigible started from Spezia last night to meet at the steamer Conte Biancamano, on which Gen. Umberto Nobile, of the Amundsen-Ellsworth north pole expedition, was returning to Naples. The dirigible was towed ashore today by warships in a damaged condition.

Mexican Fliers Die As Planes Collide

Mexico City, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Two army aviators, Roque Campos and Rodolfo Brito, were killed today when their airplanes collided at an estimated altitude of 5,000 feet during army aerial maneuvers at the aviation field, near Mexico City.

Two Dead, Three Hurt When Still Explodes

Los Angeles, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Two boys were burned to death and a woman and two children were injured today when a still exploded in a residence in which they were sleeping. The house was destroyed. The dead are Sam Manchillas, 19, and Joe Leanza, 18. The injured are Mrs. Carmelia Manchillas, 45, mother of Sam, and her children, Louis, 9, and Angella, 4, who were painfully burned. Police held Mrs. Manchillas on suspicion of manslaughter.

Secretary Warner In Dirigible Flight

Lakehurst, N. J., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—The dirigible Los Angeles, with Assistant Secretary of the Navy Edward P. Warner aboard, made a short flight this afternoon. She will be moored tonight, preparatory to taking off tomorrow for Boston, where the work of calibrating her compasses will commence.

FEDERAL AID IS SOUGHT IN CANTON MURDER HUNT

Cleveland Attorney Urges Justice Department to Take Hand in Clean-Up.

INTERVENTION OF THE FEDERAL DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE IN THE SEARCH FOR THE SLAYERS OF DON R. MELLETT, OHIO PUBLISHER, HAS BEEN RECOMMENDED TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL BY THE UNITED STATES BY THE FEDERAL DISTRICT ATTORNEY OF CLEVELAND, JOSEPH ROACH, IN CHARGE OF THE INVESTIGATION FOR THE CITY OF CANTON, AN- NOUNCED TODAY.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—District Attorney A. E. Bernstein confirmed the announcement of Attorney Joseph Roach, Chicago, that he had asked for intervention of the Federal government Department of Justice in the search for the slayers of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher.

Bernstein said he acted upon the request of the citizens committee at Canton.

If the Federal investigation is authorized it will delve into the crime situation at Canton and will not be directly concerned with the Mellett murder, although valuable evidence leading to the identity of the slayers may be uncovered, he said.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Whether Detective Joseph Cleary, of Columbus, is to continue as Gov. Donahey's representative at Canton to assist local authorities in solving the murder of Don R. Mellett, publisher, probably will be determined at a conference between the governor and Cleary tomorrow. The governor has ordered Cleary to report to him personally at that time.

(By the Associated Press.) Attorney General Sargent holds that the Department of Justice is without authority to investigate the murder of Don Mellett, Canton (Ohio) publisher.

This view was expressed by the Attorney General to a Canton newspaper man who recently asked the government to intervene.

Mme. Da Gama's Son Weds Ziegfeld Girl

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Aug. 3.—A courtship of one month resulted this afternoon in the marriage of Miss Florinda Lalanne, appearing in the Ziegfeld review of the Globe theater as "Flo Lane," to Morris Roderick Volk, elder son of Mme. Elizabeth Bate Da Gama, widow of Domício Da Gama, one time Brazilian Ambassador to the United States.

The marriage was performed by a justice of the peace in Newark. The bride said tonight there would be a religious ceremony in St. Patrick's cathedral. She said that she is a daughter of Charles E. Lalanne, an assistant corporation counsel.

Jugoslavian Protest Is Denied by League

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—The secretariat of the League of Nations has no information whatever concerning a note reported to have been sent to the league by Jugoslavia protesting against raids on Jugoslavia territory by Bulgarian irregulars.

The report, it is pointed out here, evidently is the outcome of Belgrade newspapers urging the Jugoslavian government to address such a note to the league.

Duggan Is Missing; Tug Searches Lake

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—The whereabouts of Bernardo Duggan, Argentine airman, who left Ararangua yesterday for Rio Grande do Sul, was still unknown today. A tug is searching Lake Pates, south of Porto Alegre, where the seaplane is believed to have descended.

Duggan and his companions are flying from New York to Buenos Aires.

Dry Law Violation Charge Nolle Prossed

Charges of violating the prohibition act preferred against Charles Owens, of 2038 Eighth street northwest, yesterday were nolle prossed in police court when Judge Isaac R. Hitt upheld a motion to suppress evidence filed by Attorney John D. Sadler.

Sadler alleged that the Burlington flying liquor squadron gained entrance to the Eighth street address with a bench warrant for a man named John Williams, who did not and never had lived at that address. Judge Hitt ruled that the entry and seizure were illegal. Mrs. Rebekah Greathouse, assistant district attorney, nolle prossed the charges.

FILIPINOS CHARGE POLITICAL SLAVERY IN FREEDOM PLEAS

Delegates at Institute of Politics Resume Independence Discussion With Natives.

HOLD ISLANDERS SAY COUNTRY NOT READY

Wainwright Urges Officials to Respect Opinions of Coolidge and Wood.

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—The question of Philippine independence has been injected into the present session of the Institute of Politics as a major issue of discussion.

Statements by American speakers in opposition to complete independence were hotly contested by Filipinos during today's session, the second that has been devoted to the problem.

Jose A. Santos, judge in the islands, replying to the opponents of complete independence, said: "We stand for American principles, and we refuse to be argued into political slavery."

He was supported by Pedro Guevara, resident commissioner from the Philippines, who yesterday made an ardent plea for independence. Both of them characterized as "un-American and unjust" the retraction of what they contended was a promise of independence contained in the preamble of the Jones act, passed in 1916.

Freedom Is Opposed.

Norbert Lyons, secretary of the United States mission of the Philippine chamber of commerce, in an earlier address had said that American residents on the islands, and a "large, though inarticulate mass" of natives, believed that independence would be economically and politically ruinous to the islands.

Charles C. Batchelder, former undersecretary of the interior of the Philippines, admitted that the Filipinos have a just grievance because of the neglect with which they have been treated by the United States. He submitted a plan which, briefly, would provide for a dominion status for the islands, with a Filipino government, and its own flag, and a place in the family of nations.

Representative J. M. Wainwright, of New York, author of the Wainwright bill now pending congressional action, said the opinions of American officials who have expressed the Philippine situation should be decided by Americans in defining their policies. He voiced support of President Coolidge and Maj. Gen. Wood in their contention that the islands are not yet ready for independence.

90 Days, $100 Fine, Car Driver's Sentence

A jail sentence of 90 days and a fine of $100, or 10 days additional, was imposed by Judge George H. Macdonald upon Everett Coleman, 1415 Maryland avenue southwest, in traffic court last night. He was charged with driving while intoxicated and hospital treatment was recommended by the court.

Coleman was arrested Friday by Policemen H. M. Frye and J. J. Hunter, of the Fourth precinct, after he was in collision with a bus at Eleventh and F streets southwest. Judge Macdonald recognized the prisoner as having been sentenced by him recently for intoxication, which was admitted by Coleman.

P. S. Hagan Missing; Was to Be Married

Fears for the safety of Paul S. Hagan, 32 years old, 815 A street northeast, who disappeared from his home Saturday, were expressed by relatives last night. No word has been received from him since he left after telling his father that he was going to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where he is employed as a nurse. He did not report for work at the hospital.

Hagan, who is engaged to Miss Margaret Ferguson, of Clarendon, Va., had planned to be married at Green, Va., Saturday. His father said, Miss Ferguson said she had not seen or received any communication from Hagan since he disappeared. James F. Hagan, father, yesterday visited the morgue and all of the local hospitals in a futile search.

Legion Meeting Delegates Uninstructed on Election

Costello and George Washington Posts Refrain From Indorsing Any Candidates Who Aspire to Post of Department Commander.

The Vincent B. Costello post of the American Legion elected delegates to the department convention last night without instructing them to support any particular candidate for department commander. In withholding instructions, the post probably avoided a bitter internal fight.

The George Washington post also elected delegates to the department convention last night, and it, too, refrained from indorsing any candidate. However, it did instruct the delegates to ask the department convention to indorse Gen. John J. Pershing for national commander.

It was announced at the Costello post meeting that Department Commander Julius I. Peyer had definitely become a candidate for reelection. Earlier in the day, he had wired from his camp in Maine saying that he would not run again, but later he retracted this and announced that his hat was in the ring.

himself personally opposed to the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act, although he strictly is in favor of rigid enforcement of liquor laws.

Former Representative Harry B. Hawes, Democrat, St. Louis, also had rolled up a comfortable lead over his dry opponents for the two terms when early returns had been tabulated.

Hawes strongly has advocated limited modification of the Volstead act. Despite his early lead, opposing dry candidates were showing strength as out-State returns continued to come in.

Returns as Received.

Returns from 1,095 precincts out of 4,095 in Missouri for the Republican nomination for United States senator for the long term, gave Williams 48,128; David M. Proctor, Kansas City, a dry, 24,715, and Blodgett Priest, St. Louis, a wet, 8,976. In the short term race returns from 976 precincts gave Williams 49,223 and Priest 12,120.

Returns from 824 precincts for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, long term, gave Hawes, 48,883; Judge Ewing B. Cockrell, Warrensburg, a dry, 36,336, and Robert I. Young, St. Joseph, also a dry, 10,140.

For the short term, returns from 989 precincts, gave Hawes 44,588; William H. Meredith, Poplar Bluff, dry, 31,349, and Young, 9,864.

Early indications were that the State vote had been comparatively tight, doubt being evinced that it would exceed 50 per cent of Missouri's total registration of 1,296,000.

Scattered Oklahoma Vote Shows Walton Is Second

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Representative Elmer Thomas was leading J. C. Walton, deposed governor, in the Democratic senatorial race by more than 600 votes when returns from 67 precincts out of 3,180 in Oklahoma had been tabulated tonight. More than half the 77 counties in the State had been heard from.

Henry S. Johnston, Perry attorney, reputed to have Ku Klux Klan support, had a lead of more than 600 over Walton. Texas county farmer in the field of ten Democratic gubernatorial candidates, with 112 precincts heard from.

In the senatorial contest, Thomas had 2,339 votes, Walton, 615; W. A. Ledbetter, Oklahoma City attorney, 789, and Mrs. Lamar Looney, State senator, 629.

Johnston's vote was 4,089; Darnell, 3,358; O. A. Cargill, mayor of Oklahoma City, 1,646 and former Gov. J. B. Robertson, 396.

Omer K. Benedict, Tulsa postmaster, had a slight lead in the Republican gubernatorial contest, on which returns were coming in more slowly.

No early returns of the Republican senatorial contest were available. It was conceded that Senator J. W. Harrell, the incumbent had only indifferent opposition. Plurality nominees in Oklahoma elections.

Kansas Antiklan Ticket Swings Early to Front

Topeka, Kans., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Early and scattered returns from today's Statewide primary in Kansas gave the lead to the Republican candidates for the nominations for secretary of State and attorney general who were opposed by the Ku Klux Klan.

For attorney general, 15 precincts out of 2,641, gave William A. Smith, Antiklan candidate, 160; Max Anderson, with Klan support, 149; Frank H. McFarland, 111; C. H. Quier, 50, and J. K. Rankin, 106.

For secretary of State, 15 precincts out of 2,641, gave Ewing Herbert, 162; Frank J. Ryan, Antiklan candidate, 221; John A. Ryan, 110, and Guy A. Swallow, 89.

Former Gov. Jonathan M. Davis, enlivened the Democratic primary by his effort to wrest the gubernatorial nomination from Donald Muir, youthful and wealthy lawyer of Anthony.

Renomination of both U. S. Senator Charles Curtis and Gov. Ben S. Paulen, Republicans, was conceded as neither faced real opposition.

George McGill, of Wichita, and Charles Stephens, of Columbus, opposed each other for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Interest in the congressional contests centered in the first district, where Representative D. R. Anthony, Jr., Republican, faced the

COLORFUL RELIGIOUS WORKERS CONVENT FOR 5-DAY SESSION

More Than 2,000 Attending Convention of A. M. E. Zion Denomination.

MEETINGS BEING HELD IN JOHN WESLEY CHURCH

Various Organizations to Hold Meetings Throughout City Today.

The quadrennial session of leaders in the Sunday school, Varick Christian Endeavor societies, daily vacation church schools, and other parochial agencies, met in general church school convention, under auspices of the religious education board of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion denomination, at John Wesley church, last night, beginning a five-day session.

More than 2,000 delegates enrolled, including representatives of the women's home and foreign missionary society, educational institutions, presiding elders of twelve episcopal districts including the British West Indies, the east and west coasts of Africa, and district superintendents of Sunday schools. The general theme of the convention is "The Educational Task of the Church." Preconvention conferences and education of the convention executive committee were held yesterday afternoon.

Delegates Welcomed to City.

The opening session was welcomed to the city by Maj. W. L. Correll, assistant engineer commissioner, by Thaddeus H. Chase on behalf of the Christian Endeavor Union, and by Mrs. Daisy Tucker for Sunday schools. Dr. J. Francis Lee, of Charlotte, N. C., responded. F. A. Ray, president of the convention, in his annual address, said:

"We are here to combat false standards which destroy the spirituality of youth. Our program of dealing with young people must consider the circumstances. If people have changed, it is because social conditions have changed. We must not lose faith in youth."

Bishop William J. Walls, president of the religious education board, also addressed the convention. The invocation was said by the Rev. H. T. Medford and the benediction by the Rev. W. D. Batis.

Reports of the morning following will continue at 9 o'clock this morning. Following business organization addresses will be made by Bishop P. A. Wallace, Dr. W. H. Davenport, Dr. E. L. Madison, the Rev. W. L. Hamblin, J. W. Young, R. L. Brockenbush and Bishop W. L. Lee.

Report of World Convention.

At an "echo luncheon" at 1 o'clock Miss Sarah Jenifer will give report of the World Sunday School convention at Glasgow, Scotland, in 1924. Mrs. A. M. Lee, of Rochester, will report the International Christian Endeavor convention at Portland, Ore., in 1925.

At 2 o'clock W. Kyles will report the World Christian Endeavor convention at London this year.

Simultaneous meetings will be held in various churches at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. At Galbraith church a curriculum conference will be presided over by Bishop Walls and children's division conferences will be directed by Miss Jenifer.

Young people's division conferences will be held at Union Wesley church, with Miss Sarah Brooks in charge. Adult and alumni division conferences will be held at Trinity church and administrative conferences at Metropolitan Wesley church. Presiding elders, regional directors, district superintendents and president will meet at John Wesley church.

Man Seriously Hurt When Struck by Auto

Knocked down by an automobile as he was crossing Seventh between I and K streets northwest last night, Frank Kelly, 52 years old, of Baltimore, was seriously injured. He walked in front of the car, police report.

William Bell, colored, 419 Oakdale street northwest, driver of the car, was released after questioning by police. Kelly was taken to Emergency hospital and treated for a fractured leg and cuts and bruises to the head.

Former Deputy Slain In Battle at Polls

Logan, W. Va., Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—A fight at a precinct polling place in Logan county, participated by argument over voting of a group of negroes, resulted in the death of Art Chambers, former deputy sheriff, and subsequent firing of a volley into the car containing the negroes and driven by Maston White, candidate for the Republican nomination for circuit clerk.

Chambers it was said, challenged the right to vote of the negroes White had taken to the polling place at Yolyon, charging the men were registered in the precinct but had moved away. When one of the poll clerks said they could vote, White said Chambers and his brothers began to beat the clerk. The shooting followed.

Physician Surprised

STATE INVESTIGATES RAVENSWORTH BLAZE

Odor of Kerosene in Ruins of Lee Mansion Causes Insurance Inquiry.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Kemp, of Richmond, is conducting an investigation into the burning of Ravensworth, historic home of the late Gen. W. H. Lee, 15 miles south of here, Sunday morning, and is being assisted by Hugh E. Marsh, assistant Commonwealth's attorney, of Fairfax county, in the absence of Commonwealth's Attorney Wilson Farr, who is expected to return to his home today and continue the investigation.

The fire was reported by the insurance company to Col. Joseph Kemp, insurance commissioner of Virginia, as incendiary, and the commissioner detailed Marshal Kemp to investigate. The report made to Col. Button stated there was a strong odor of kerosene about the ruins. Russell Wood, 20-year-old son of the manager of the Ravensworth dairy farm, who was placed under arrest and is being held in the Fairfax county jail for investigation. Marsh stated last night preliminary hearing will be held shortly after Mr. Farr's return.

Nude Woman, Talking To Crowd, Arrested

Nude Woman, Talking To Crowd, Arrested

Mrs. Alma Porter, 25 years old, 1230 Fourteenth street northwest, was arrested shortly before last midnight as she was leaning against a fence on the northeast corner of Thomas circle northwest, totally unclothed and delivering a discourse to a crowd of 200 onlookers. She was taken to Gallinger hospital and held under police guard on charges of disorderly conduct and intoxication.

Motorcycle Policeman E. D. Jemmy, of the Second precinct, passing on his vehicle, was attracted to the scene by the crowd of onlookers. He removed his coat and said he had to use force in robbing it about her. Several persons picked up bits of clothing which she had discarded. It is believed, while on her way home, she was forced to don her clothing and then taken to the hospital in a police patrol.

1,500 ATTEND OUTING OF KALLIPOLIS GROTO

Athletic Competitions and Charleston Contest Held at Marshall Hall.

A large program of athletic events and a Charleston contest marked by keen competition featured the outing of 1,500 members of the Kallipolis grotto and their families yesterday at Marshall Hall.

In the Charleston contest, in which about 30 participated, Miss Julia Cunningham won first prize among the girls, who were eliminated first, and Miss Margaret Dewdney, second prize. Adolph Ditto came out first in the 50-yard dash, and Brownie Joseph second. The winners of the athletic events were:

25-yard dash for sons of prophets, Raymond James, Tommy Thomas and Robert Philip; 25-yard dash for daughters of prophets, Bernice Thomas, Frances Glick and Helen Olmstead; 25-yard dash for tots, Earle Legge, Elsie Waple and Alma Sweeney; 100-yard dash for Grotto members, Jack Van Buskirk, E. Legge and Raymond Jones; tot's race, Marshall Legge, Leonard Maxwell and Samuel Joseph; race to catch a live chicken, Miss Dorothy Davenport; 75-yard dash for boys, Abe Golden, Carroll Fish, William Asherman and Leslie Herbert; and 75-yard dash for men, C. T. McMinn, Edward Barker, Lawrence Bailey and J. Lewis.

Joseph Leverton was in charge of the events and Harry B. Plankinton was chairman of the general committee in charge.

Capital Man's Auto Hits Hyattsville Boy

Jack Ritchie, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Ritchie, of Hyattsville, Md., was struck and seriously injured by an automobile driven by Earl Lewis, 3420 N street northwest, while playing in front of his home in Franklin street, Hyattsville, yesterday.

The boy was taken to Sibley hospital, believed to be suffering from a fractured skull. Hospital physicians last night said his condition was very critical. Lewis, who stopped his car immediately, said the child had run in front of his machine. A witness bore out this statement, and Lewis was released by Chief of Police Robert C. Gallagher, of Hyattsville, pending the outcome of the child's injuries.

Truck Rolls 100 Feet; Kills Driver.

Special to The Washington Post.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Aug. 3.—Wills Ralph Strother, 32, was crushed to death today when a truck he was driving for his uncle, Jesse F. Strother, merchant, skidded on wet clay at Stonewall Park and rolled 400 feet down an embankment.

He was a son of William M. Strother, farmer of Katylick. His wife and three children survive.

ARLINGTON COUNTY CIVIC GROUP ASKS PLAN BODY PLACES

Federation Protests Failure of Byrd to Recognize It on Commission.

WOMAN AND TWO BOYS IN AUTO CRASH WITH CAR

Flag to Be Presented Tonight to Legion Post—Boulevard Efforts Indorsed.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST, Clarendon, Va.

The failure of the governor of Virginia to recognize the Arlington County Civic Federation in the appointment of members to the regional development commission of Virginia to work with the National Capital park and planning commission brought forth much discussion at the monthly meeting of the federation last night, held at the courthouse with President Robert E. Plymale presiding.

"As citizens of Arlington county and the State of Virginia we are to be muzzled," asked J. Cloyd Byars. "I protest against any fear of offending the governor."

The discussion arose when President Plymale asked that a committee be appointed to consult with the fine arts commission in their plans for the beautifying of the approaches to the Key bridge and the cleaning up of Rosslyn.

"There appears to be an effort on the part of some politicians in Arlington county to discredit the civic federation," Plymale said. "The politicians don't want an active civic organization. It is time the citizens of this county stood up for their rights. We must either stand by our program or quit."

While no action was taken by the federation, Mr. Byars insisted that the federation stand by its former resolution that the governor increase the commission already appointed to fourteen members to correspond with that of Maryland.

The federation, upon the motion of Arthur Orr, went on record as indorsing the action of the board of supervisors in the appointment of Asa E. Phillips as engineer in charge of the installation of the county's water system.

Approval of the movement looking to the formation of the Inter-Federation council, to be composed of representatives from the Arlington County Civic Federation, District of Columbia Federation of Civic Associations, and the Montgomery County Civic Federation, was unanimously given following the report from Frank G. Campbell. The purpose of this organization, he said, is to create a closer relation between the three sections and to work for a uniform development in the Greater Washington movement.

Mrs. Anna Feltman, of Clarendon, with her two nephews, Howard Skillman, of Clarendon, and Russell Killams, of Baltimore, narrowly escaped serious injury when struck by a car of the Washington-Virginia Railway, operated by Motorman Fred Rice, at the Chestnut street crossing of the Rosslyn division yesterday.

Mrs. Feltman, who had just left her home a short distance away, was on her way to Clarendon, and as she was about to make the crossing the car crashed into her automobile throwing her to the ground, cutting her on the face. The two boys received cuts and bruises on the body.

Presentation of a large silk flag in behalf of L. C. McPherson, of Cherrydale, and a silk post banner in behalf of William P. Ames, of Clarendon, will be made to the Arlington post, American Legion, by State Senator Frank L. Ball tonight at 8 o'clock in the Washington-Lee High school. Speeches of acceptance will be made by W. Thomas French and Thomas W. Delahanty, members of the local post. The music will be furnished by the members of the Costello post bugle and drum corps, of Washington.

The effort being made by the Lee Highway association to locate a 200-foot boulevard through Arlington county was unanimously indorsed yesterday by the board of directors of the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce.

Few human eyes have seen this wonder trail

(Gallatin Gateway to Yellowstone)

The thrill of discovery may be yours if you enter Yellowstone Park this year through the great, new Gallatin Gateway, opened to the wide world August 1st by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. Few human eyes, save those of Indians, have explored this wonderful trail southward from Three Forks, Montana, where Lewis and Clarke discovered the source of the mighty Missouri. Yet you may now enjoy it, traveling in greatest comfort. Big game still ranges freely among mountains 10,000 feet high; bison, elk, cougar, wolf, mountain sheep and goats. And the brawling streams teem with trout.

You need only eight days for the round trip from Chicago through the rugged Gallatin Canyon, and the glories of Yellowstone Park! Gallatin Gateway is the only entrance to Yellowstone opening direct from the trunk line of a transcontinental railroad. No branch line travel! Yellowstone Park Motor Coaches will meet "Milwaukee" trains at Three Forks, in the electrified district, for the complete tour. Old Faithful Geyser is your first stop on this interesting trip.

If you want to continue to the Coast, summer fares are surprisingly low. When you return from the Park tour, step once more aboard one of the world-famous "Milwaukee" transcontinental trains and speed on to Puget Sound across four glorious mountain ranges, including the Rockies. No seas or climates; no smoke or oil fumes. Complete, luxurious equipment.

Mail this coupon for complete details

COMMISSIONER DOUGHERTY.

President Coolidge appears to have been fortunate in finding for District Commissioner a man who combines the qualifications required by public and personal considerations. Proctor L. Dougherty, the successor to Mr. Fenning, is a successful business man, active in public affairs, popular, energetic, and otherwise well qualified for the commission. He has lived in the District of Columbia 27 years, and has identified himself with civic and commercial affairs as a member of the Board of Trade, several clubs, and especially as a member of the citizens' advisory committee. In his last mentioned capacity Mr. Dougherty has shared in the task of shaping the plans for the expansion of Washington and in revising the District budget. He goes into office with a good working knowledge of the local government's needs and limitations. His relations with the other commissioners are cordial, and his standing among business men insures their hearty cooperation with him. The best wishes of the community attend the new commissioner.

Isn't always the dumb girl who needs the most lessons in swimming.

THE COST OF LIVING.

The Department of Labor reports that the cost of living in the United States between December, 1914, and June, 1926, has risen 77.9 per cent.

The cost of living includes food, fuel, clothing, light, furniture and house furnishings, rent and miscellaneous items now regarded as necessities.

In comparing the cost of living in 1914 and 1926, eight years after the war, it must be remembered that all prices since 1914 have been measured in dollars possessing less purchasing power. In 1919 the level of prices was the highest, which simply meant that the dollar purchased less than in any year since 1914. This was not due to the increased relative value of commodities, but to the smaller purchasing power of the dollar.

Examination will show that the price level in 1919 went up in about the same degree that the purchasing power of the dollar went down. In 1919, the money in current circulation was largely Federal Reserve paper notes—billions of them. Their exchange value declined, which expressed itself in high prices, measured in paper dollars. The American dollar has not yet reached its 1914 purchasing power. It is easy to inflate, but difficult to deflate.

This process of inflation, causing high prices, went on in all European countries. The cost of living in Belgium today is 400 per cent above the 1914 level, in Czechoslovakia it is 700 per cent above, in Finland 900 per cent, in France 300 per cent, in England 70 per cent, in Poland 50 per cent, and in Canada 65 per cent.

These rises in the cost of living as compared with 1914 simply register the effect of inflated paper currency on prices. When wealth is destroyed and production retarded, and paper currency largely increased, the price level rises inevitably. Prices now are measured in paper money units having less purchasing power than in 1914.

They've found a wild wheat that can stand drought, but wild oats seem to require as much moisture as ever.

BASEBALL AND BISHOPS.

Now that Dayton, Tenn., has fallen into "innocuous desuetude," and even the hope for the building of that William Jennings Bryan Memorial university has departed, another Tennessee town is trying to force itself into the spotlight. Seawane is the place, and the occasion is the gathering there of the recreational program committee of the Episcopal conference. According to the latest advice "there has been a nation-wide discussion" over the habit of bishops in the matter of the nation's chief pastime. These right reverend gentlemen, it appears, have been "leaving their ecclesiastical dignity in the locker rooms while opposing lines from their number crossed bats in the sandlots."

The Seawane committee has made a report of its findings. It discovers that bishops do play ball on occasion, and that instead of thereby bringing disgrace or even ridicule upon the cloth and the cause which they serve, they on the contrary maintain their influence with their associates and apparently put pep into the calling. The committee declined to issue a bull against the proposed game wherein the coadjutor bishop of Texas is scheduled to pitch against the bishop of Florida.

From the days when cricket was invented bishops of the Anglican church have been noted as "bowlers" and wicket keepers. It is gratifying to learn that there is no present likelihood that the prelates of the American section of that great religious body are to be censured because they are fans. There is no good reason why an athletic bishop should not, with practice, become a competent southpaw or line out a home run occasionally. Of course, good headwork is needed in baseball, and the bishops would not be warranted in thinking that mere agility and brawn would make them kings of the diamond.

A soft answer may turn away wrath, but it doesn't work on a subdivision salesman.

MEXICO'S LAW ON RELIGION.

The policy adopted by the Mexican government in dealing with ministers of religion and religious organizations is attracting world-wide attention on account of the novel and drastic details of the law issued by President Calles under date of June 14. While the Catholic Church is most vitally affected, this is merely because the Mexican membership of that church is larger than that of all other denominations combined. All religious organizations, including religious orders, are affected by the law, as well as all ministers of the gospel and all church property.

The law issued by President Calles purports to be in pursuance of the constitution, and in many sections the constitution is clearly obeyed. Other sections, however, seem to be in direct conflict with the constitution of Mexico.

The purpose of the law is stated to be the elimination of religious influence in national political affairs and the complete separation of church and state. If this were the only purpose, and if the law accomplished no more and no less than this, it would command the respect of those who are convinced that church and state must be kept separate in a republic. But the new law attempts much more than this. It confiscates church property, denies the right of the clergy of any denomination to hold services or administer sacraments elsewhere than in churches under governmental scrutiny, denies the liberty of the press, strips all religious persons of distinctive garb, prohibits all religious organizations from acquiring real estate, and confiscates seminaries, colleges and asylums as well as churches, bishoprics, parish houses, etc.

The law conforms to the Mexican constitution by requiring that no person not of Mexican birth shall exercise the ministry of any cult.

Rigorous penalties are prescribed for violations of the law and for failure on the part of any official authority to enforce the law.

The right of the Mexican nation to deal with religion as it sees fit can not be questioned by any other nation, so long as no other nation's citizens are injured. Any injury to foreigners resulting from the execution of Mexico's new law, would be properly the subject of inquiry by the government affected, notwithstanding the declaration that the law is a purely domestic measure.

Without raising the question of President Calles' authority to issue a law which in important particulars seems to transgress the constitution of Mexico, it can not be doubted that the Mexican nation is deeply injured by this reactionary and intolerant action. Even if the law were well within the bounds of the constitution, it strikes a blow at religious freedom and freedom of speech and of the press. The fact that the law is enthusiastically approved and supported by the communistic elements of Mexico leads the outside world to suspect that communism has a firm hold upon the Mexican government and has led it into the folly of imitating the Russian soviet in attempting to destroy religion. Nothing but disorder, misfortune and ultimate disaster can come from such a course in a free country in the twentieth century. Mexicans, with all their misgovernment, are free men, having the right of free speech, freedom of the press, freedom of assembly, freedom of worship and the power to set up their own government. The destruction of religion and freedom of speech and of the press in Mexico is impossible and only communists or other madmen would attempt to destroy the rights of a free people.

WHO WON THE WAR?

Maj. Gen. James G. Harbord, U. S. A., retired, president of the Radio Corporation of America, generally has been a discreet individual. To the August issue of the American Legion Monthly, however, he has contributed an article which invites trouble. "The infantry continues to be the backbone of the army," says Gen. Harbord.

Who won the war? The artillerymen, say the aviators; headquarters, say the staff officers; service of supply, answer the quartermaster and ordnance corps; the medical corps, say the doctors. Each and every branch of the service is sure that it won the war, and is not backward in pressing its claims. Natural, perhaps, because the size of the undertaking precluded a bird's-eye view of the whole.

The question has not been settled and probably never will be. But it is certain that Gen. Harbord, U. S. A., retired, will find his desk piled high with letters of protest for many days to come.

Man is not as resourceful as woman. If it's a rotten movie, he can't enjoy it because the hero wears nice clothes.

FIVE-CENT FARES IN NEW YORK.

Owners of transportation systems in every city of the country will await with interest the outcome of the meeting of the board of estimate of the city of New York, which is scheduled for next week. Attention has frequently been called to the efforts of the authorities of Manhattan to solve the traffic problem as it relates to the handling of passengers in the subways, elevated and surface roads of the big city. For the last ten years all efforts on the part of the corporations owning the franchises to secure permission to increase the fare have been without avail. The fare on all the lines which use the rails has been maintained at 5 cents. In spite of the fact that in practically every other city in the country a higher rate is exacted. The Fifth Avenue bus line, which charges 10 cents, is the one exception in New York.

During the last three months four or five corporations have been formed for the purpose of operating bus lines in the borough of Manhattan and at least two of these companies are willing to bond themselves to maintain service at a 5-cent fare anywhere within the borough. Now comes one of them offering to establish a line in each of the boroughs which make up the municipality with the same 5-cent fare in each, furnishing free transfers where tickets are bought in blocks of twenty, and with a 2-cent transfer charge on single fares.

Additional interest is added to the forthcoming decision of the board of estimate by the fact that the company making the latest offer proposes to use an entirely new means of propulsion, at least so far as the United States is concerned. The company has acquired the patents for a "gas-electric" bus which has been successfully used in London, which generates electrical energy by the use of gas. It is asserted that by converting gasoline into electricity the cost of operation of a bus is less than one-half that of "gas" alone.

The company proposes to invest $17,000,000 in the enterprise, and two of the soundest financial institutions of New York are behind the movement. It is proposed to install 900 of the new type of buses within six months.

The easiest way to win the unintelligent is to tell them you are appealing to their intelligence.

PROOF OF PROSPERITY.

A sure proof of the prosperity of the United States is the large volume of new financing during the last seven months. Since January 1 more than $2,442,129,000 in stocks and bonds of new corporations have been placed upon the market and absorbed by American investors. It is difficult to estimate how much of this was paid for in cash, and how much on time, or in monthly installments; for almost everything is now sold on the installment plan. This is about $120,000,000 more than was invested in the corresponding period of last year.

Capital invested in public utility securities increased some $200,000,000; investments in iron and steel securities increased $25,000,000, and in textile companies $19,000,000; while investments in railroad securities declined some $129,000,000, and in traction companies the decline was about $14,000,000.

In the year 1911 the amount of capital invested in new domestic securities totaled only about $1,730,487,000. Immediately after the close of the war the amount jumped to more than $3,106,930,000; and in 1925 it reached $3,642,012,000. The indications are that the total amount of capital invested in new enterprises this year will exceed $4,000,000,000.

There isn't much fun in a ball game unless you are prejudiced enough to think most of the decisions on one side rotten.

TEXTILE MEN ORGANIZE.

A cotton textile institute has been formed by the leading cotton cloth manufacturers, North and South, for the purpose of developing cooperation among all the members and eliminating waste in manufacturing and marketing. Thus it appears that cotton cloth manufacturers have the same difficulties that are encountered by producers of wheat, corn, etc. Both activities need organization and cooperation.

In promoting and developing a plan of cooperation among cotton cloth manufacturers, it has already been pointed out that the anti-trust law faces manufacturers, while no such law faces agriculturists, for the latter are exempt from the operation of the anti-trust law. This is a special privilege enjoyed by agriculturists in the development of cooperation.

Manufacturers of cotton cloth, that is, the cotton textile industry, have had a hard time for a year or more. This is due to intense domestic competition, as well as competition from abroad in the domestic markets; also to the variation in the price of cotton.

The cotton textile industry of the United States faces the delicate task of dodging the Sherman anti-trust law and the Federal Trade Commission, while and at the same time reaping the reward of practical cooperation.

During the last five years the United States Shipping Board has sold 1,067 vessels, receiving therefor the sum of $75,731,833. Of this number 304 were cargo ships and 456 were wood or cargo ships sold for scrap.

The United States production of gasoline in the month of May reached the high level of a billion gallon mark; while the production of petroleum reached the high water mark of 2,000,000 barrels a day.

He's probably an alien unless he thinks money was invented to have a good time with.

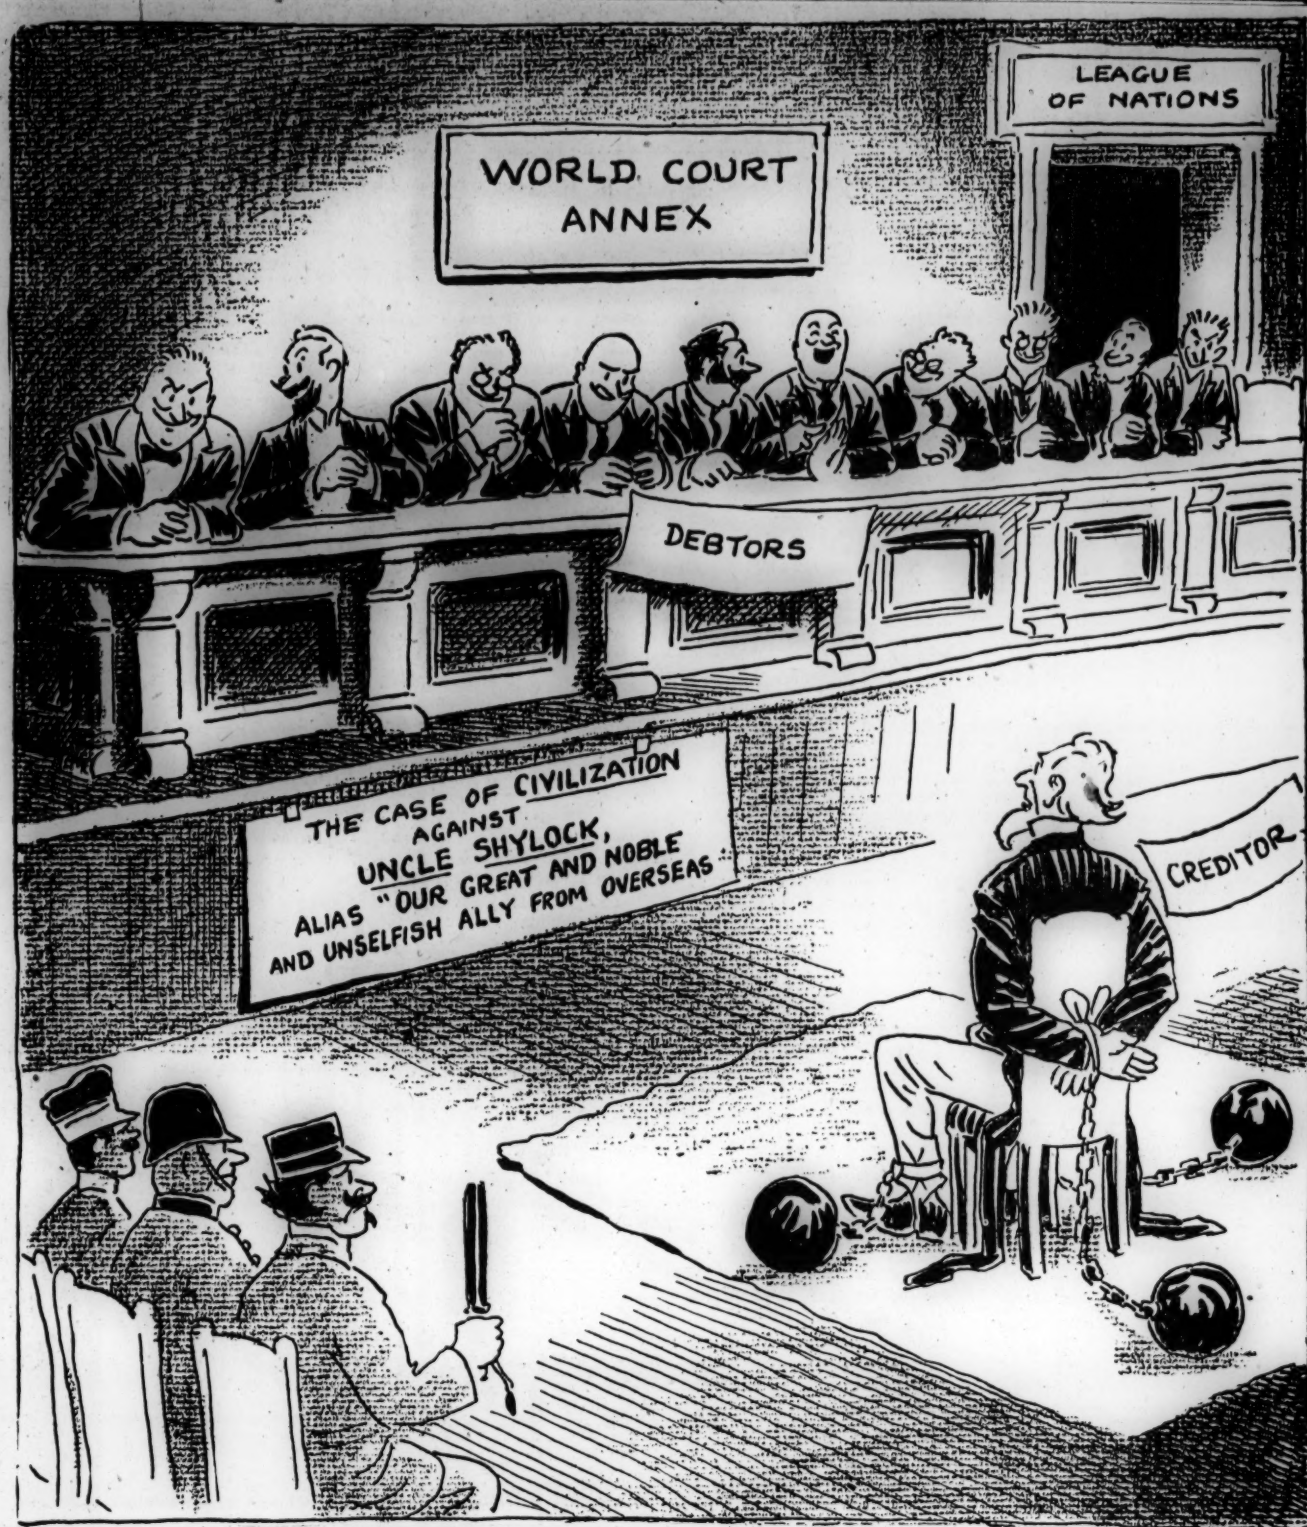

Everything will be all right if the good times last as long as the easy payments do.

The Worst Story I Heard Today—By Will Rogers

The Worst Story I heard today was told by an Englishman and was the best Missionary story I ever heard. The Missionary was engaged in work among the Cannibals. For a time he seemed to be going along great. He was winning their hearts and directing them to religion. But unfortunately for himself he was putting on flesh all the time. When his converts considered that he was about in proper killing condition, they layed violent hands on him, stripped him and tied him to a stake in the village. Here an auction was held on various parts of his body. One of the deacons in his church bought a leg. His most recent convert to Christianity secured a promising shoulder. Rib roasts brought the body up to a good total price. He was to be dissected the following day. That night he escaped. Running naked through the woods he was chased by wild beasts and scratched by thorns till finally he ran into a native village. He staggered up against the wall of a hut and he heard voices inside, and these words: "Hell and fury, blank, blank! You damned idiot, why in the devil didn't you leave your leg? You are the Damned blank, blank player I ever saw!"

"Thank God!" said the wretched Missionary, "I am again among Christians."

Spoiling for a Fight

By GLENN FRANK.

THE savage in us shows most when we are at play. We gravitate toward the modern amusement that is most reminiscent of ancient adventure.

I have just been rereading G. T. W. Patrick's illuminating study of the psychology of relaxation.

"Man is at home on the battle-field."

This is the interesting starting point of Mr. Patrick's study.

I heard again the other day the threadbare story of the football promoter and the classical professor.

"It is an outrage," said the professor, "that, in the modern university, the football coach is paid a higher salary than the most famous professor."

"But did you ever hear," countered the football promoter, "of 50,000 people paying $2 a head to watch a recitation in Greek?"

The athlete is undoubtedly more popular than the academician.

A Greek grammar can not compete with a gridiron for popular attention.

A bull-fight will draw a larger crowd than a beautiful fantasy.

"Scratch the most cultivated college professor," says A. E. Wiggam, "and underneath you will find an untamed savage. If you doubt this watch him, not at work, but at play. At a college debate he will mildly clap his hands; at a baseball game he will let out a fair-sized whoop; but at a football game he will yell, blow a tin horn, throw his coat in the air, grab his neighbor's hat, pound his umbrella to pieces, and behave generally like an out-patient of bedlam."

As sports increase in intensity, the intensity of our interest in them increases.

It seems that unconsciously humanity is always spoiling for a fight.

When we are not at war, we like to work off steam by watching sports that are as near like war as possible.

The short-sighted will go on crusades against the civilized warfare of vigorous sports on the theory that they stimulate and keep alive the spirit that makes for the uncivilized warfare of the battlefield.

It is probably more near the truth to say that humanity thereby drains off a surplus energy that would otherwise break out in warfare more often than it does.

The next step is to harness this surplus energy of the urge to fight for creative achievement; we do not need to let it all escape through the safety valve of sports.

(Copyright, 1926.)

enough to go to the polls, the political managers are under tremendous incentive to spend huge sums of money to get out voters who are subject to various kinds of influence. The managers capitalize public indifference.

The most effective way to counteract these inflated expenditures is for everybody to vote. Then the controlled voters will be submerged by the great mass of uncontrolled citizens.

Merely Perfunctory.

Louisville Courier-Journal: Acquisition of the Big Four, Michigan Central and several small roads by the New York Central, which would take over the properties under a 99-year lease, is merely perfunctory, as the parent, road already owns, and has owned for many years, practically all the common stock of the subsidiaries and has operated them as part of the system.

Has Little Effect.

Brooklyn Citizen: Senator Hiram Johnson's tirade against foreign critics of the American war debt policy will have little effect on the American public, however much it may be resented in Great Britain and France. His suggestion that the United States should withdraw its application for membership in the world court because of this criticism is childish. His statement carries no more weight

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Talks With a German Accent.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I am very much interested in the news from Geneva, that Alsace-Lorraine may seek to bring the matter of their autonomy before the League of Nations. I am very curious to know more about the signers of that manifesto and those behind this movement, and hope the Associated Press correspondent who is quoted is also enough interested to look into the facts of the matter.

I see that 21 of the signers have been punished. I wonder what their history is. Of the 70-odd who were not punished it is said 12 were "clergymen" and were let off for fear of antagonizing Rome, which means, I suppose, that they were Roman Catholics. The attitude of Paris toward the Jews and Catholics in Alsace seems to be that of a prodigal father who kicks his children out to shift for themselves when they are young and then tries to assert his legal rights to their support when he is old—not only expects to be supported, but tries to dictate to them.

Glancing at the "Postscript" I read that in this matter Alsace is "talking with a German accent." Taking that literally, wouldn't it be perfectly natural if Alsaitians talked with a German accent. Would you think them more sincere if they spoke with a Jewish or Roman or French accent? Blood is thicker than water, you know, and Alsace is a partaker of the German inheritance, which, you must admit, is in many ways a more valuable and more enduring one than the French.

If I was sure it was a German accent, I would know that it was the Alsaitians themselves who are asking for autonomy, and not these Jewish and Roman children of France who are trying to cast off an unwelcome parent. At that, you could hardly blame them. The behavior of the government at Paris has not been such as would inspire respect and confidence in either her own children or those she has conquered.

ELIZABETH CEDERBERG.

Washington, July 22.

The Recall of Riano.

New York Evening World: Politics has been playing havoc with the diplomatic corps in Washington during the year. But recently Jules Jusserand, dean of the corps, and for many years a prime favorite with Americans, was recalled and retired; and now his successor, as dean, Don Juan Riano, of Spain, has been recalled without explanation. Although not the orator and writer that Jusserand was, he has been a favorite in official circles and in society for many years and has been useful both to his own country and to us. This was particularly true during the war, when he handled German interests in this country and looked after our interests in the enemy nations. With his recall, after 22 years, the Belgian Ambassador, who has only been in Washington for six years, becomes dean of the corps. Americans will regret to see the Spanish Ambassador go and will long have pleasant memories of his official sojourn here.

LADY ASTOR BEGINS REST AT NEW ENGLAND ESTATE

British Noblewoman and Children Weary After Long Journey to Gibson Home.

HUSBAND TO JOIN PARTY

Dark-Harbor, Maine, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—On a little island in Penobscot bay, Lady Astor, first woman member of the British house of commons, today entered upon a month of respite from the cares of state. Announcing that she sought a real vacation, she devoted the first day of her visit with her sister, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, to complete rest.

Seven Hundred Acre island, on which the Gibson summer home, consisting of ten acres, is situated, affords boating, fishing, bathing and tennis as the principal amusements for the summer resident, while a golf course at Dark-Harbor is easily accessible to those who desire that game.

On her arrival here today from Boston, Lady Astor and her four children who accompanied her were somewhat weary from their ocean voyage, a day of eight-seetings in Boston and an overnight steamer trip up the coast to Camden through heavy fog. The fog still persisted when the party left Camden for the island in the Gibson power boat, and they were behind schedule about half an hour at their destination.

At the Gibson home it was announced that there would be little in the way of formal program in honor of Lady Astor's visit. The only function will be a tea given by Mrs. Gibson in three weeks. Lady Astor's husband, Viscount William Astor, and their eldest son, who are now on a tour of the West, will join the house party at Seven Hundred Acre island in two weeks.

Tourists Visit Syria In Spite of Warfare

Beirut, Syria, Aug. 3 (By A. P.). Four hundred American tourists departed from the steamship California today to get a glimpse of Syria despite the troubled state of the country.

Disregarding warnings, about half the party left for a visit to Damascus.

The Answer is only a few days away.

MELLON, IN ROME, VISITS CONSUL AND DAUGHTER

Secretary Unannounced, but Newspaper Men Greet Him; Denies Mission Official.

NOT CONDUCTING SURVEY

Rome, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the United States Treasury, arrived in Rome this morning. Mr. Mellon came from Geneva.

Mr. Mellon's arrival was entirely unexpected. Even his daughter, Mrs. David K. E. Bruce, wife of the American vice-consul, was not aware of his coming and neither she nor Mr. Bruce was at the railway station to meet him.

Secretary Mellon, however, was recognized aboard the train by a person attached to the Italian debt commission in Washington. He telegraphed the information to Rome, with the result that the station platform was filled with Italian newspaper and camera men, to Mr. Mellon's obvious annoyance.

Mr. Mellon's original intention was to accompany his son, who left Geneva for Rome yesterday morning in a motorcar. He made an eleventh hour change in his plans, however, and came into the capital on an express train.

No representatives of the Italian government or other person with an official mission was at the station to greet the Secretary.

Although Mr. Mellon was bombarded with questions by newspaper men, he declined to say anything, later stating through Mr. Bruce that his visit was entirely private. It was stated that the length of his stay in Rome was undecided and that he did not even know whether he would be officially greeted by the Italian government. If he had his own way, Mr. Mellon made known, he would prefer not to have any ceremony at all.

It also was stated that widely circulated reports that the secretary was studying European conditions for eventual communication to President Coolidge were entirely untrue. On the contrary, he has been avoiding contact with experts and officials.

Neither the Italian government nor the ministry of finance are officially cognizant of Mr. Mellon's arrival and no appointment has been made with Premier Mussolini or Minister of Finance Volpi, both of whom were busy today with a cabinet meeting.

A Word About Comparisons

Some advertisers consider the policy of inviting comparisons as bad practice, on the theory that it should not be suggested that any one look elsewhere. Such an attitude, we think, betokens a certain lack of confidence in their own values, a reluctance to have them measured by concurrent opportunities. Inasmuch as we are endeavoring to bring to public attention what we sincerely consider the genuine advantages of dealing with us, we do not hesitate to ask you to compare these values with any similar merchandise offered elsewhere. Look where you will—we only ask the favor of a visit here as well—it will be more convincing than all that we might say. We are sure that you will find it to your advantage.

Discounts Are Sometimes Confusing

A wag once said that a discount reminded him of an overcoat, as it had to be put on before it could be taken off. We do not entirely agree with his opinion, for in the conduct of business discounts often serve a legitimate purpose and frequently result in distinct savings to customers.

But they may be confusing, for no matter how generous the discount may seem, it is of no advantage to the purchaser unless it brings the Net Cost lower than that at which the article may be purchased elsewhere.

To avoid confusion, we refrain from any reference to discount percentages, preferring to have you compare and pass judgment on these values by the simple and sure method of considering only THE NET COST IN DOLLARS THAT YOU ARE ASKED TO PAY.

It will surprise and gratify even that great number who are already acquainted with the unusual price savings of our Summer Sale and the high standard of its merchandise.

Others have yet to be delighted and amazed by the vastness of its scope—the quality and quantity of its merchandise—the extremely low level of its prices.

Where millions of dollars of merchandise are offered, it is obviously impossible to list the vast number of items included. If you are interested at all in Home Furnishings we feel sure that your needs can be found here—even though it may not appear in the listing. We submit but a few specimen values.

WIVES OF TOMORROW

By FRANCES McDONALD

Enter—the Grooms!

DEAR Miss McDonald: I feel that by confiding in you, Miss McDonald, I will receive some good sound advice, as I read your column every morning, and know that others have been helped greatly by you.

About a week ago I ran away and was married. I will be seventeen in August, and my husband will be eighteen the same month. I have been congratulated by my friends, but hardly one congratulated me without adding "you'll be sorry pretty soon." Oh, if you only knew how that hurts. Is it possible that just because we are young we haven't a chance to be happy? I didn't picture my future life as a path of roses, dear Miss McDonald. I realized from the first that there would be disappointments and even quarrels (though my husband is very patient and good natured). We are both young and modern, and though I have seen some of life, my husband has seen a good deal even though he is young. Before we met each other we both traveled with pretty fast crowds, but gave it up immediately upon finding we loved each other. (Please don't hold that against us.) Understand we are both a bit serious natured. Before I met him I tired of a fellow's company inside of two weeks. I went with my husband for five months, and still find him as interesting and nice as ever. We both work now. Neither wants a family for four or five years. In this time we shall go around to dances and parties and enjoy ourselves just as we did before. Do you honestly think we will be sorry? Please be frank in your answer Miss McDonald.

My husband and I shall both hope and wait for your most valued advice and answer, so I hope you will not disappoint us. The past few days I have worried constantly and have become downhearted and nervous, which I conceal from my husband, as it would make him sad. I am sure. Trusting to hear from you in the very near future, and wishing your column the best of luck.

A WORRIED JUNE BRIDE.

Well, dear, if enough of these glooms gather around you, you will think you are unhappy whether you are or not. Pay no attention to them. You know if you read this column that I am the last person in the world to advise a little girl of 16 to marry. But also I am the last in the world to believe that no girl of 16 can be happy married. And the reason is that I know whereof I speak. You know I spend my days in the divorce courts and the various juvenile courts. And I often wish these courts were held out in the public parks so a few more people would learn the things that make marriage fail and make humans unhappy. If any one asked me off-hand what I considered the greatest handicap to happiness for the young married couple today I would say interference and the opinions of disinterested troublemakers. And I would put that ahead of the ever-present question of money.

So, if your gloom-dispensing friends will just refrain, and if you and this boy you have found will start in to a world of your own regardless of the quivering mass that is the rest of the world, you have the same chance of happiness as any other couple who ever said "I will" and meant it. It's meaning business that makes a success of anything you start in life and that goes for marriage or making a cake. Do you mean business? Then you are already a success—so fear nothing.

A RESTFUL LIVING ROOM

IN a little Georgian house where the people really live—rather than merely sit in and out—one finds this cheerful room. Much comfort, little cost, a home-like air—such is the impression one has of it.

The Wilton rug is taupe; the wall paper has a putty ground with a diamond design in light red—the sort of paper that increases the apparent size of a small room. The woodwork is painted to match the ground of the paper, and the curtains are of soft, faded silk. The furniture shows a pleasant, easy-going combination of over-stuffed pieces and eighteenth century mahogany reproductions. At the left of the small Chippendale sofa is a nest of red lacquer tables, repeating the note of red in the paper and the curtains.

Polished Nails Lure Boys From Farms

Mold, Flintshire, Wales (By A. P.).—"What's the use of talking about 'back to the land' in this age when boys love polished nails and girls must all have powder puffs?" Mrs. J. Evans, of Mannerch, demanded in a speech before the Flintshire liberals in opposition to the Lloyd George land scheme.

Women Geologists Will Study Glacier

Chicago (By A. P.).—A dozen girl graduates under the leadership of Dr. Margaret Fuller, of the geology department of Northwestern university, are making a summer field trip to study the rock formations of Glacier National park this summer. Scholarships credits will be given the girls who can make the required grades. The party plans to conclude its study of the park with an investigation of the Sperry glacier. One man, husband of one of the students, accompanies the group.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. W. A. EVANS

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease. Requests for such service can not be answered.

TRENCH MOUTH.

C. J. writes: Will you please write something on the causes, effects, and treatment of what is called "trench mouth?"

REPLY.

What you have in mind is an old enemy disguised by a new name. Prior to the war days, the name of this condition was Vincent's angina. It came to be known under that name 30 years ago. It is caused by a germ which has some resemblance to the one which causes syphilis; however, neither the disease nor its microbe is in any sense a kinsman of that disease of ill repute. Its effects in the main speak for themselves. The sore mouth which is the outstanding symptom may persist for many months. It occasionally causes one form of Bright's disease and this complication may be present for some time without being suspected.

As a rule, Vincent's angina is more painful than serious, though some infections have been responsible for fatalities. One reason for regarding Vincent's angina as serious is the frequency with which it is confused with diphtheria; cases of diphtheria have been called beginning Vincent's angina, and Vincent's angina in the earlier stages has been called diphtheria. The mistake would be made more frequently were it not for the tendency of Vincent's angina to be chronic and of diphtheria to come speedily to an issue.

The Fischer treatment for Vincent's angina consists in washing the mouth frequently with a strong solution of hyposulphite of soda. This old friend has a multitude of uses. The photographers use it, and it serves many other purposes in the arts. The engineers use it to get rid of an excess of chlorine in drinking water and also to rid water of odors due to tar wastes. Beauty specialists use it as bleach for freckles and liver spots. Physicians use it as an antidote for metallic poisons and also as a saline purge.

As a rule, a drug that has many uses is not a cure for any disease. But Fischer thinks it the sovereign remedy in Vincent's angina. A saturated solution is made up. A tablespoonful of this saturated solution is mixed with a half glass of water and used as a spray. The remainder of this half glass of solution, after that for spraying has been removed, is diluted to one glassful and used as a mouth wash. The washing and spraying is done once an hour. In addition, the physician paints the angina spots daily with a solution of nitrate of silver. Chlorate of potash tablets are also used, being held in the mouth and allowed to dissolve.

BEAUTY AND YOU

CONCERNING FRECKLES

By Viola Paris.

IN our enthusiastic quest for beauty, we sometimes get very impatient for a clean sweep of every kind of facial blemish. Almost never, we find, is this feasible, and I am convinced that we should be wholly pleased even if it were.

One of the milder blemishes toward which I should recommend having a little patience are freckles. Now, we must admit that the start that freckles are not always so very disfiguring, at least to fair people. What is more engaging than a sprinkling of innocent sun-kisses across the bridge of a piquant nose. These are the freckles that preserve an appearance of youth.

Of course, the brown blotches down the sides of the face and on the neck are positively ugly, especially on brunettes. And there is something very unattractive about freckles on the hands and arms. Don't put too much faith in self-styled quick and complete freckle removers or be disappointed if bleaching preparations aren't perfectly thorough in their work. Very often, an acid strong enough to remove the freckles might injure the skin. As a matter of fact, most freckle preparations are mild. Gradual bleaches rather than cures. And, if the freckles grow pale enough to be practically unnoticeable, that is about all that you can ask. Naturally, the process takes time.

This is a case where the prevention is far, far easier than the cure. If you don't like freckles, then take the necessary precautions. The most important of these are—the powdery lotion that is at once a bleach, a protection, and a powder base; the face powder that you use; and the soothing, whitening cream to be applied at night.

Tomorrow there will be an article by Viola Paris on the use of the mirror.

Conduct and Common Sense

THE A B C OF CIVILITY.

By Anne Singleton.

AS long as we have elected to live in herds, there must be herd laws. Even the animals know that. It's ridiculous to say "even" the animals, because in their simple, elemental way they conduct themselves about as well as we do; the educated ones often better. The trouble today seems to be that no one wants to consider the good of any one but himself. No one wants to keep herd laws. Very few people, apparently, care much to enforce them. It is not popular to keep vandals from strewing the parks with paper and destroying the trees and shrubs. It is not popular to suggest to picnickers that they are trespassing upon private property, and thieving when they carry off food, vegetables and flowers. It is not popular to try to prevent little boys from breaking windows with stolen milk bottles.

or little girls from allowing baby carriages they have been entrusted with to rush down steep places into the sea or, its equivalent in this case, the street. And yet if parents don't teach them better, some one ought to. It ought to be as much a part of every school's course to instruct children that in picking fruit blossoms they destroy food, that in breaking down fences and breaking in windows they are breaking laws and wasting property, that when they are wantonly untidy and careless they are being bad citizens, as to teach them to add or to read.

The fundamental virtues of honesty, cleanliness, courtesy and that consideration for other people's rights which is the mark of the well-bred, ought to be drummed into all heads early in life.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

ONE HUNDRED FIFTY YEARS AGO.

One hundred fifty years ago this land we love was born. Then did the happy bugles blow. On such a lovely morn'g And were the skies as fair to see As those which bend o'er you and me?

I wonder did our fathers dream That we should meet today With eyes that fairly dance and gleam To sing glad hymns and pray? I wonder did they guess that we The happiest race on earth should be?

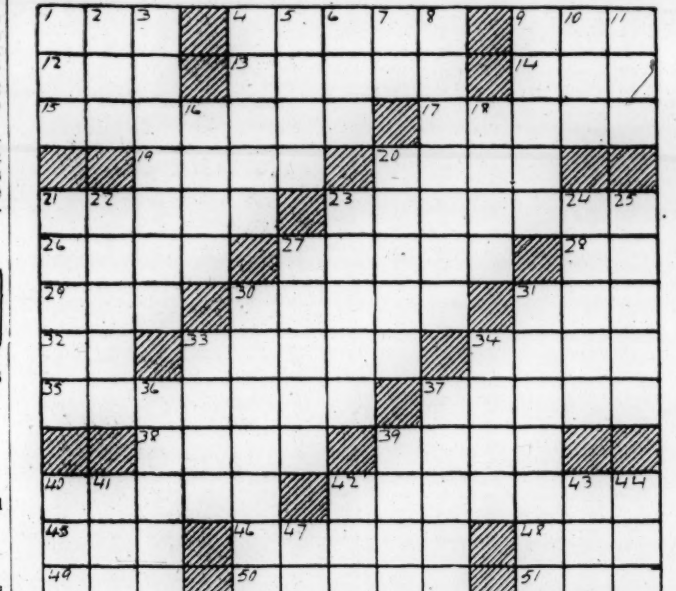

Our wise forefathers, brave and bold, Knew one fact to be true: That God will prosper men who hold That nothing vile, however strong, Can flourish and endure for long.

And knowing—that, I think they knew That if the faith we kept, Our flag would smile in Heaven's blue Though in the dust they slept. That in the march of solemn time We should achieve the heights sublime.

God grant that we may justify The faith our fathers had, May hold the torch of freedom high, That countless ages glad, As yet unborn, with hearts elate, Our country's birth may celebrate.

MODISH MITZI

A steamer chair, thinks Mitzi, is a very comfortable place to view the new fashions. The Goofer, nearby (as usual) is enjoying himself too, looking at the windy corners. His eye for fashion is not always so accurate, though he certainly is interested. He has just commented on Mitzi's new hat, which is close fitting, and of velvet. The turned down brim is turned up at the side-back and the crown is broken by a fold to lessen the height. The hat on the lady nearest Mitzi looks a little like the outline of a Spanish comb. The other lady wears a close-fitting hat with embroidered figures on it. The Goofer is going to get some cigarettes.

The Goofer Loses Out

That was a bad move on the Goofer's part. He should have known what would happen to an empty chair next to Mitzi's. When he returned a very eager gentleman was accepting an invitation to sit next to her. Nothing to do but take Polly for a turn or two around the deck. The Goofer loves Polly (in a sort of brotherly fashion) and he is going to tell her how much he loves her in that felt hat which is turned up just a little in front and flares out on the side. The new young man is going to Seattle—just imagine that, the very place they are going to visit and he knows so much about—Seattle. The Goofer sort of savagely remarks that he looks as though he were telling all he knew, too!

A Light Girdle Is a Style Necessity—

THAT Paris is bored with indefinite outlines and haphazard effects is quite evident at the recent midsummer openings—in the decided trend to fitted hip-lines and the insistence on clean-cut figure lines.

TO achieve this effect the smart young woman has adopted an extremely light crepe de chine girdle, utterly without boning, but with panels of silk elastic that mold the figure subtly.

Follow This Rule

in skin care if safeguarding a good complexion is your aim

By NORMA TALMADGE

It is bringing the charm of natural loveliness to thousands

BEAUTY experts throughout the world now urge skin cleansing as beauty's most important aid.

Yesterday's artificial methods are quickly passing. Youthful appearance is thus preserved. Beautiful complexions by the thousands are resulting.

The rule is simple. No costly beauty methods, just the soothing olive and palm lather of Palmolive used in this way:

FOLLOW THIS ONE WEEK—THEN NOTE YOUR COMPLEXION

Wash your face gently with soothing Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

Remember that before Palmolive came, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." Soaps then were judged too harsh. Palmolive is a beauty soap made for one purpose only to safeguard your complexion. 60 years of soap study stand behind it. Millions of pretty skins prove its effectiveness beyond all doubt.

BE SURE TO GET THE REAL PALMOLIVE

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois. 2191

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

SOAR TO NEW HIGHS

General Motors and Steel

Leading Auto Shares Rises to 213 3/4; Reacts, Then Advances Again.

DUPONT TOUCHES 298; COPPERS COME TO LIFE

Oils Fail to Develop Much Strength; Rails Also Are Backward.

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Aug. 3.—The New York Stock Exchange today experienced another session of sensational trading, in which more than 2,850,000 shares changed hands, and General Motors and United States Steel common, twin leaders of the bull market, were bid up approximately 13 and 6 points, respectively, to new high prices for all time.

Although the closing of the two leading stocks dwarfed the trading in other shares, high records were set up by more than a score of securities and the upward trend of the market was well maintained in spite of reluctance on the part of speculators to enter into new commitments at the present stage of proceedings and in the face of a tidal wave of profit-taking after the later stages of the session. Scores of stocks at net advances ranging from 3 to 8 points.

Holds Center of Stage.

The center of the stage throughout the forenoon was held by General Motors in which the day's turnover was 346,000 shares, or more than 1 1/2 per cent of the total transactions of the entire market, but which kept pace with the advance in the post-midday period, turning over the premier stock's turnover with a total for the day of 477,400 shares.

The widespread publicity given to General Motors' remarkable rise on Monday under unusual circumstances started a veritable stampede for the stock on the opening today. The board was literally flooded with orders to sell, and in from all parts of the country, representing the traditional willingness of the public to buy "at the top." The opening was split with sales of 2,200 shares at prices ranging from 205 to 206, up four and five points from the previous close, and new maximum quotations. On an enormous turnover the market rose steadily to 213 3/4, up 12 1/2 points, before selling swamped buyers and forced the quotations down to 202 1/2.

Others Also React.

The break in General Motors temporarily unbalanced the market. Virtually all active issues reacted sharply. However, the tide was turned abruptly when quotations for the rise were suddenly shifted into Steel common, and that old-time favorite was lifted dramatically to 153, a new maximum for the stock, in an impressive exhibition of control of the market had a stabilizing influence on prices.

Coppers Come Active.

The dormant copper shares came to life. American Smelting and Refining and Anaconda, the last named touching 298 and closing at 297 1/2, 34 points. Consolidated Gas was bid up within a fraction of its high record.

Call Renewal at 4 1/2 Per Cent.

Call money renewed at 4 1/2 per cent. Monday's renewal figure, of late the tone of the market was easy, there being no lack of funds for stock exchange borrowers.

On the Foreign Exchange Market.

On the foreign exchange market, French francs and Italian lire continued to advance, closing 8 and 6 points higher, respectively, and Belgian francs duplicated the gain.

Miller Leading Group With 78, Eight in Rear of Martin.

Cole Shoots 79 for 1st Round; Boger Has 80 and Cox 82.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Washington golfers were down in the lists at the closing of the first half of the 36-hole qualifying round of the fifth annual national public links tournament, played over this course today. John R. Miller led the quartet of Capital players, shooting a 78, which was eight strokes in the wake of the leading 70 round turned in by the youthful Billy Martin of this city.

In the opinion of Jim Preston, official scorer, and the U. S. G. A. officials gathered here, 160 will be top score to gain the titular flight.

Miller's golf today was consistent. One of his best holes was scored at the sixth, that edges through a group of trees. This is a 230-yard, par 4 hole, but Miller rose over the towering trunks and was right to the pin with his next shot.

Cole's card of 79 showed three birdies on the outward nine. He had one on the 330-yard fifth and another on the sixth. Again he was down in three on the 300-yard eighth. Had he not taken a six on the fourth, which is well trapped and has an out of bounds fence bordering the left side, and a seven on the long seventh his card going out would have compared with the leaders.

Boger's 80 showed a poor inward round with a pair of sixes. These marked his

Washington suddenly rallied in the eighth and scored two runs. A second homer by Goslin did the trick. It coming with one run already over the plate and two on as a result of singles by Harris and Myer and Rice's walk, which came between these bingles.

Ballou then relieved Gird and set the next three Nats down in order. A homer by Miller, this one going in the left field stands by way of variety, put the Sierites two in their half, and then the Nats came through with their abbreviated stand mentioned above.

Nats Beaten In Game of 6 Homers

Goslin Gets Pair of Circuit Clouts in 7-6 Defeat.

Crowder Gets Hit Hard at Start of Contest.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Gen. Alvin Crowder's stock took somewhat of a slump here this afternoon and by the time the St. Louis batters were through with him in his four-frame shift, he had been reduced in rank to a corporal.

Joe Giard drew the assignment from Sier, and, although a trifle generous with his passes, was equally stingy with bingles until the eighth, when the Nats came within an ace of knocking the count on a 4-run rally.

The Nats staged another stand in the ninth, but it fell short by a run due largely to a great stop by Melillo, Brownie second sacker, who seemed to be celebrating something, for this was his third stop of the day. With one dead, McNeely singled and Rether, up for Harris, sent him to third with a clean one to center. While Melillo was robbing Rice of a hit, Earl counted and Stewart, who ran for the Dutchman, took second. Myer then ended the game by hoisting a Miller.

Myer and Blumge each contributed good catches to stack up against Melillo's trio, while the relief hurling of Morrell also was worthy of mention. Allowing for the fact that the Nats should not be held against moundmen, as the fact that one-third of the hits made today were flukes, more or less.

The Browns scored in three of the four frames in which Crowder pitched, totalling five runs off as many hits, two of which were homers good for three. Williams cracked out one in the third with a man on, while Schang did likewise in the next frame with the hassocks empty. The other two alien marks were somewhat tainted, being made in round two out of singles by McManus and Schang, a sacrifice fly, a stolen base and errors by Goslin and Tate.

Meanwhile the Nats' portion had been a pair of unavailing threats. In the second Goslin and Judge walked, but a fine stop by Melillo of Tate's scratch bingle killed a runner at home. Blumge followed a walk with a double in the fourth stanza, but Gird then retired the side scoreless.

After a double play had nullified the value of hits by Pinch Hitter Taylor and Harris in the fifth, Harry Rice poled one of Morrell's slants into the right field stands for the third homer of the day, Goslin breaking the ice for the Nats with the fourth of the game in the next session. This latter clout went off the way over the roof and when last seen was heading for the downtown section.

Washington suddenly rallied in the eighth and scored two runs. A second homer by Goslin did the trick. It coming with one run already over the plate and two on as a result of singles by Harris and Myer and Rice's walk, which came between these bingles.

Ballou then relieved Gird and set the next three Nats down in order. A homer by Miller, this one going in the left field stands by way of variety, put the Sierites two in their half, and then the Nats came through with their abbreviated stand mentioned above.

THE RIALTO CLUB IS SHOWING THE WAY TO TEAMS IN SECTION B OF THE CAPITAL CITY UNLIMITED league with four victories and no defeats as its record. The group of players pictured below have had a vital part in the success of the club. Left to right are "Gilly" Ottenberg, pitcher, and winner of nine straight games; Sol Rosenblatt, slugging first baseman; "Pick" Wolfe, a catcher with a deadly throwing arm; Benny Mensch, hard-hitting outfielder, and Joe Lipkin, third baseman, who has but few peers in sandlot ranks.

Nationals Have Crowded Schedule for Next Week

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—The hotter the weather the harder, it seems, the Nats work becomes, for fourteen games are listed for decision within the next eleven days, including a quartet of double-headers, which will be played tomorrow and Saturday of this week and on the same days of the following week.

Tomorrow the Harrismen open up with the Tigers with a twin battle, another is slated in Cleveland on Saturday, while the Yankees will be met in two on two days next week, this set with the league leaders calling for a half dozen contests in four days.

Upon the Nats' return home on August 11, a double bill will be played with the Yanks, followed by three singletons, and then the Nationals will invade Gotham for a pair on Saturday, August 14, bustling right back home to entertain the Athletics Sunday in the Macks' final 1926 visit to Washington.

Of course this present trip isn't over yet, but if the Nats return home in or just out of fourth place, their real test will be in that Yankee set. Ordinarily, with such a record as theirs, they would have been out of the race long ago.

But since the Huggmen stepped out to a substantial lead, practically all of the six leading teams have been beating each other, and as a result the holdover champs still have a chance to get the runner-up berth they crave.

For the double-header which opens the set with the Tigers in Jungtstown tomorrow Manager Harris is planning to use George Murray and Stanley Coveleskie. The former got away badly in his first start as a Nat here against the Browns Sunday, but is confident that he will do better against Cobb's slugers.

The Pole also is determined to turn in a winning effort. He has not been credited with a victory since July 19 and he announced to the world this afternoon that he was all set to break this losing streak.

Just why the American league champs are now fighting for a place in the first flight, rather than for the position at the top of the heap, is indicated from the pitching records of the past 40 games, which cover those played from the return home from the last Western invasion to date.

THAT the Harrismen slugers have been doing their share is shown by these statistics. In 26 of these games, the starting visiting finger has been pounded off the hill. In 24 of these, but two hurlers were needed by opponents, three be-

Giants and Cubs Split; Florence Collapses

New York, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—The New York Giants split a twin program with the Chicago Cubs today, winning the opener by 5 to 4 and losing the closing game by 5 to 3. Catcher Paul Florence, of New York, was overcome by the heat and had to leave in the eighth inning of the first game.

Cooney won the second game for Chicago in the sixth, crashing a homer with two on base. Bush had shut the giants out until the ninth, when a misplay and a double paved the way for the New York runs.

Walter Johnson returned from his visit to Coffeyville, Kans. this morning and reports that crops in that section are good. He probably will not pitch again until Thursday, when he is due to work against the Tigers.

THE veteran flycatcher, Sam Rice, seems to be taking on a new lease on life. Up to and including yesterday's game, he has hit at a .167 clip for the trip, one of his blows being a homer.

Hardly enough fans were on hand for this afternoon's game to pay for the baseballs used. It was by far the smallest gathering the Nats have played to this season.

Immediately after the game the Nats hustled to the station for a train for Detroit due to get them there in time for a late breakfast in the morning.

Melillo made a great stop in the second when he went back of second to get Tate's single with one hand. Two were on at the time as the result of passes and one was killed trying to score. In the Nats by far the smallest gathering the Nats have played to this season.

THE schedule follows: September 25, Gonzaga High of Washington, 25; October 2, Randolph-Macon, 25; October 8, Central High, at Washington; October 15, Newport News High, at Newport News, Va.; October 22, George Mason High, at George Mason; October 29, Culpeper High, at Culpeper; November 6, Fredericksburg High, here; November 20, Swansboro Prep, here.

Pyle's Plans Scored by Wright

Longwood Court Will Not Be Allowed French Girl.

La Suzanne Happy at Prospects of Her Tour.

BOSTON, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Doubts as to the success of the projected professional tennis tour of Suzanne Lenglen in America were expressed here today by Irving Wright, chairman of the Longwood Cricket club tennis committee.

"I am quite sure that the Longwood Cricket club board of governors would not allow the Chestnut Hill covered courts to be used by the French girl.

"Pyle apparently knows little about tennis. There is a spirit of amateurism behind the American tennis game that is rather unique. That is the only thing that saves the game. Any professional influence not strongly counteracted by the association would kill the game. Pyle can not dictate to the association and tell it to change its rules to bring about a condition such as exists in golf.

"WHERE there a large professional tennis group in the country, the association might approve play between the bodies. Such play, however, would be contemplated merely to improve the game of our amateurs. Without sanction of the association, no amateur can play Lenglen."

Lenglen Is Delighted At Thought of Tour

Pourville, France, Aug. 3 (By A. P.).—Suzanne Lenglen, who has stepped down from her throne as queen of the world's amateur tennis players, now intends to make money by exhibitions of her supreme skill as a professional.

"Why not?" she asked a correspondent for the Associated Press who called to see her in the little cottage where she is staying with her mother and brother, overlooking the English channel. "I have already become an all-time job and a real business for stars. If one wants to stay in the top ranks, one has little time for anything else."

"I don't know just what I am going to do, but I am going to make money, to have some fun and to see the world. I have been working for others for fourteen years, and now I am going to work for myself. When I finish my four-month tour of America, I am going to make plans for a world tour. I think that you will find a good many other well known players in America and Europe will follow my example."

"WHO do I think will succeed me? Well, I think it is a pretty even bet between Helen Wills and Kitty McKane Gaudet." Suzanne said she had no regrets over deciding to take the money offered by Mr. Pyle and letting her amateur standing go.

"I will have time now," she asserted, "to do what I want to do, go where I want to go, and money to pay for it. Besides, I hope to be a good propagandist for France. I don't know just what I am going to do, but I am going to make money, to have some fun and to see the world. I have been working for others for fourteen years, and now I am going to work for myself. When I finish my four-month tour of America, I am going to make plans for a world tour. I think that you will find a good many other well known players in America and Europe will follow my example."

"I am also going to Mexico City. I look forward to that, as I will get to see some more old fights. I am sorry I did not get to the Biarritz

ESTIN IN THE GOLD WORLD AT CONEY, COLLYER SAYS

Spa Feature Romp for Rockman

Beverly is Special
Sent by Clockers at Cincinnati.

Warehouseman, Body
Guard Favored at Toronto.

By BERT E. COLLIER.

Down at Coney island, where by the way, we have been hitting him high, and handsome, the good "word" from my chief is "tell the boys to take the rubber off the old kate today. ESTIN is in." Now, in view of the fact that we have known when Sea Swift, Joe Monroe et al. have been turned home, would it not seem good judgment to string along? Yes, yes, or words to that effect. The doghouse stuff talks internationally. PECORA and CZARIST for what is left.

CHERRY INDIAN was the overnight commission horse. Pittsburgh and Buffalo are loaded to the guards. THISTLE BOY has been working well and seems to favor the gumbo. BONNIE OMAR is given one more chance, while SUN-STAR is almost sure to show improvement in the going.

The Kilmier trick is a bearcat in the mud.

The clockers' special is BEVERLY in the closing spasm. Lamp the guy they append: "Overnight, it looks like an old-fashioned regatta. A word to the wise is usually as good as not better than a kick in the pants." Now hop to it.

The card offered at the Spa for Wednesday is quite an improvement. The going continues heavy but is fast dry on the Delia. The handicapper is the outstanding feature. Peace favors BY HISSELF, while I expect ROCKMAN to turn the trick. This latter is simply "poison" when the going is heavy and rough. Yes, I know all about Sarazen. If you like him, play him; but not if you are one else who can not see from this distance whether the "educated one" has his "tea."

KING ALBERT in the fifth, is some real gladness; the same can be said about KIEVE in the third, about which there was some lively overnight play.

The crowd country "dynamite" is COUNTRY ROCK. "I know where a job is planted by the 'Suicide club.' Nut sed. Over at Toronto, the good WAREHOUSEMAN is again slated to bring home the bacon. This good player seems to improve with every race. Right connections are down. Hook, line and sinker. BODY GUARD in the fifth looks like an older repeater. You have the answer to all this chatter in your lily white mitt.

FAR SIDE BUS STOP POLICY OF FENNING THROWN IN DISCARD

Public Utilities Commission Grants Near-Side Plea for Sixteenth Street.

FORMER COMMISSIONER HAD BLOCKED CHANGE

Traffic Director Eldridge Became Convinced That He Made Mistake.

Another of former District Commissioner Frederick H. Fenning's policies was reversed by his erstwhile fellow commissioners yesterday. The public utilities commission granted the request of the Washington Rapid Transit Co. to be permitted to stop its motorbuses to receive and discharge passengers at near side of street intersections on Sixteenth street in the area in which traffic is controlled by automatic signals.

The company asked permission to make the change three times and each time decision was held in abeyance by request of Fenning. Near-side stops were made by the buses before the traffic lights were installed. Then Director of Traffic M. O. Eldridge decided to have the bus stops moved to the far side of each intersection. This was ordered. Soon, however, Director Eldridge decided that he had made a mistake. Then he, the bus company and Capt. R. G. Klotz, engineer of the public utilities commission, united in seeking to have near-side stops restored. Mr. Fenning would not approve the restoration.

L. W. Carver was appointed as statistical clerk to assist B. McK. Bachmann, accountant for the commission. The new position was authorized by Congress at the last session. This increases the personnel of Mr. Bachmann's bureau to five.

Girl, Wed at 17, Wants Marriage Annulled

Helen J. Montague, 18 years old, 3323 Eleventh street northwest, yesterday petitioned the District Supreme court, through her attorney, Robert B. Bender, to annul her marriage to Anthony L. Montague, 947 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

According to the petitioner, they were married at Woodside, Md., September 16, 1925, when she was only 17 years old, and without the consent of her legal guardian. Mrs. Montague says she did not accompany her husband when he obtained the license and asserts he gave her age as 18 years.

Eliot Investigating Recreation Facilities

Recreation facilities for the District is the first part of the National Capital park and planning commission's work being studied by its city planner, Charles W. Eliot 3d, and this will be followed by consideration of transportation matters.

Mr. Eliot will investigate recreation programs of the past, what was originally outlined in this line, what has been accomplished and what remains to be done. The factor of population will be considered in plans for this division.

$10,000 Asked for Injuries.

Ralph A. Carter, 1439 Lawrence street northeast, filed suit yesterday in circuit court against the Washington Railway & Electric Co. and Basilios K. Antiokos to recover $10,000 damages for alleged personal injuries. Through attorneys Lambert & Veatman, the plaintiff says that December 23, last, while a passenger on a street car at Tenth and G streets northwest a collision occurred between the car and the automobile of Antiokos.

Minor Sues For $5,000.

Dorothy Way, a minor, 446 Buchanan street northwest, filed suit yesterday in circuit court against the Washington Rapid Transit Co. and the Washington Railway & Electric Co. to recover $5,000 damages for alleged personal injuries. Through attorneys Patterson and Haveratt, the plaintiff says that June 7, last, she was a passenger on a bus which was in collision with a street car at New Hampshire avenue and Upshur street northwest.

FIRST DEGREE MURDER LAID TO ALONZO GREEN

Indicted in Connection With Death of John Delaney. Homicide Ignored.

ONE HELD FOR BIGAMY

Alonzo Green, colored, was indicted on a charge of first degree murder by the grand jury yesterday in connection with the death of John Delaney, also colored, May 27, last. According to the indictment, Green struck Delaney over the head with a stick on M street southeast. Archie H. Brown, Amanda Butler and Silas Jefferson were exonerated of homicide charges.

Brown was alleged to have run down and killed Dimitro Petrov with an automobile at Seventh street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, June 20. The Butler woman was alleged to have stabbed William T. Young, also colored, June 12, at 1034 Twenty-ninth street northwest. Jefferson was alleged to have struck and knocked Harry I. Hopkins from a porch at 921 Twenty-seventh street northwest, June 14.

Irene Montgomery, colored, was indicted on a charge of bigamy. She is alleged to have been married to Frank A. Lancaster December 23, 1920, at Alexandria, and while still the wife of this man went through a marriage ceremony in this city July 3, 1924, with Samuel Montgomery, without first having divorced Lancaster.

The names of other persons indicted and the charges against them will be found in the daily legal record of The Post.

Knights of Pythias Will Picnic Today

This will be Knights of Pythias day at Chesapeake Beach. Fifteen hundred knights and their friends are expected to visit the resort on the annual outing. Proceeds will be applied toward curtailing the building debt. J. W. Cherry, 1362 Maryland avenue northeast, is in charge of arrangements. W. A. Kimball, past grand chancellor, will head the body of officials who will attend.

Odd Fellows from the District and all sections of Maryland and Virginia will flock to the beach tomorrow for the annual excursion of Forest lodge, No. 41, of Forestville, Md. This outing has become an annual institution with farmers for miles around, and 2,000 are expected. Fried chicken a la Maryland will be the piece de resistance of every basket luncheon. LeRoy Pumphrey, of the Woodward building, is in charge of arrangements.

Criminal Assault Charge Is Ignored

The grand jury yesterday ignored a charge of criminal assault against Motorcycle Policeman Howard J. Dorrnbacher, of the Eleventh precinct, who was alleged to have attacked Miss Jessie Lilly, 336 Florida avenue northwest, on Good Hope road southeast June 11, after accosting Miss Lilly and a man companion in a parked automobile. The woman said that Dorrnbacher ordered her out of the car and took her into the woods nearby and attacked her.

ADMIRAL JOHN BARRY HONORED BY WREATH

Sons of Revolution Hold Ceremony at Statue of Naval Hero.

Honoring the memory of John Barry, Assistant Secretary of the Navy T. Douglas Robinson yesterday placed a wreath at the base of the statue of the American naval hero in Franklin park, at the close of brief patriotic exercises held under the auspices of the Sons of the Revolution.

Continental standards, banners of the Sons of the Revolution, the Bourbon emblem of France and the flag of the United States flanked the statue, forming a picturesque background for the impressive ceremony. An invocation by Chaplain R. W. Shrum, of the United States navy, preceded the laying of the wreath by Assistant Secretary Robinson, and there were short addresses by members of the executive committee. The French embassy was represented by Capt. Paul Edouard Henri Gripon, acting naval attaché.

The committee of the Sons of the Revolution in charge of the ceremony included Capt. Yates Stirling, U. S. N., chairman; Capt. Frederick G. Pyne, Lieut. Comdr. Philip R. Baker, Charles C. Coop, Ralph W. McDowell, and Ellsworth H. Van Patten, U. S. N.; Col. George C. Thorpe, Maj. Julian C. Smith, and First Lieut. William C. Hall, U. S. M. C. Accompanying the committee was a color guard, as well as members of the board of managers of the society headed by Brig. Gen. George Richards, U. S. M. C., president, and Charles P. Light, secretary.

Alcorn, chairman.

ONE KILLED, NINE HURT IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Car Crashing Into Pole Causes Fracture to Passenger's Skull.

THREE SERIOUSLY INJURED

One man was killed and nine persons were injured, three seriously, yesterday as the result of traffic accidents in and near Washington. The fatality ran the total of traffic deaths thus far this year to 38.

When the automobile in which he was riding on Hunt place near Forty-fourth street northeast, hit an electric light pole and overturned, a man believed to be John Carter, colored, of Atlantic City, suffered a fractured skull and died three hours later in Freedmen's hospital. An unidentified colored woman passenger in the vehicle was critically injured and is in Gallinger hospital.

Edward Robinson, colored, 22 years old, 461 Browns court northwest, driver of the car, suffered injuries to his back. An inquest into the death was ordered by Coroner J. Ramsey Nevitt, to be held at the District morgue.

Three men were injured in a collision between an automobile truck and a suburban car near Relee, Va. Leslie Smith, 33 years old, of Ballston, Va., motorman of the Washington-Virginia railway car, suffered a broken leg. Andrew Koener, 28 years old, of Rosslyn, Va., and Vernon Thompson, 18 years old, of Rosslyn, Va., occupants of the automobile, were severely cut and bruised. All were treated at Emergency hospital.

Lee Kopp, 71 years old, of Oakton, Va., is in a serious condition at Emergency hospital as the result of an unusual mishap. Kopp was crossing Ninth and G streets northwest in the rear of an automobile which was in gear and being cranked by Joseph Sullivan, 49 years old, 1126 Eighth street northwest. The car started backward and knocked Kopp down. He suffered a fracture of the leg and several ribs. Sullivan was arrested and at the First precinct charged with having bad brakes and assault with an automobile.

When the automobile in which they were riding was in collision with another car and an electric light pole at Connecticut avenue and Garfield streets northwest, Alfred E. Cogno, 1000 Vermont avenue northwest, and Clarke W. May, 19 years old, of Woodmont, Va., were bruised and cut. They refused hospital treatment and were taken to their homes. Joseph Bolling, colored, 25 years old, of Deanwood northeast, was slightly injured when the automobile in which he was riding was in collision with another car at First street and Maryland avenue southwest. He was treated at Providence hospital.

Business Area South Of Mall Not Planned

Development of a Federal warehouse, supply and general business area in the territory south of the Mall and east of Fourteenth street northwest is not under consideration in the first year's government building program, public building commission officials said yesterday. Whether this project can be considered in the ensuing four years covered by the $50,000,000 government building appropriation without special congressional authorization is problematical.

Clearing of temporary government buildings from the Mall area in the vicinity of Seventh street northwest may not be completed for three or four years, according to present reports.

BRIDEGROOM ACCUSED BY PARENTS OF BRIDE

Baltimore Man Alleged to Have Falsified Age of Girl He Wed.

John R. Love, of Baltimore, charged with perjury in connection with the issuance of a license to marry Theresa McKillop, also of Baltimore, whose parents allege that she is only 17, was arraigned in police court yesterday for a preliminary hearing. The young wife refused to testify against her husband when she was placed on the stand.

The girl's father told Judge George H. Macdonald that he had warned Love to stay away from his daughter, as she was too young to think of marriage. The hearing was continued until August 18 to summons the Rev. H. M. Hennig, of 506 Fourth street northwest, who married the couple.

The boy is defended by Robert E. Lynch. Assistant District Attorney E. Russell Kelly is representing the government. Love is out on bond pending the hearing. Heretofore only two cases of this character have reached the grand jury, one of which was dismissed.

CITY HIGHWAY PLANS MAY GO TO BUILDERS IN ADVANCE OF WORK

Capital Coordinators Suggest Way to Avoid Loss of New Structures.

CONDEMNATION RISKED IF IN LINE OF STREETS

Traffic Situation at Sixteenth Street and Columbia Road Considered.

So that prospective building will not conflict with highway plans, it was recommended at a meeting of the coordinating committee of the National Capital park and planning commission yesterday that District officials prepare plans for the use of their building department so that prospective builders asking for permits in areas listed in the highway plan for street purposes may be informed of the risks they run in having to give up their structures at a later date.

Action was taken following announcement that the District commissioners are going to start immediate condemnation proceedings for acquisition of necessary land to make Potomac avenue 110 feet wide from Nebraska avenue to Reservoir road, and for widening of Reservoir road from 50 to 90 feet from Potomac avenue to Conduit road. This action is made necessary by the beginning of erection of a building within the lines of what is Potomac avenue as arranged in the highway plan.

Ready to Suspend Buildings.

The building is owned by Peter Vanderloo, Jr., who appeared before the committee and is reported to have said that he would suspend operations for 30 days to give the District government an opportunity to act on its condemnation plans. It appeared that Vanderloo did not understand that he was building on a proposed highway and to eliminate such a condition in the future, the foregoing action was recommended to save expense and trouble to both the District and the commission.

The purpose of the condemnation proceedings contemplated is to keep other people from building in that area, and in connection with that improvement, the committee will recommend to the commission at its next meeting, August 20, that it take up the question of purchase of the land between Potomac avenue and the Potomac river shore from Chain to Key bridges for park purposes.

Traffic Situation Considered.

The committee again considered the traffic situation at Sixteenth street and Columbia road, as suggested by Lieut. Col. J. Franklin Bell, engineer commissioner, and was informed by District members of the group that contract had been let for extension of traffic lights up Sixteenth street through this area, which it is believed, will remedy the situation complained of, where traffic coming east on Columbia road and turning north into Mount Pleasant street gets in the way of southbound traffic on Sixteenth street. The committee will wait until the traffic lights are installed, and see whether the difficulty is corrected on the future.

The bathing pool and market site questions were not considered.

Fire Results in Suit To Recover $4,353.75

The Auto Livery Co., 212 Thirtieth street northwest, yesterday filed suit in the District Supreme court against the Washington Gas Light Co. and the Southern Oxygen Co. to recover $4,353.75.

The Auto Livery Co., through attorneys Adkins & Nesbitt, charges that a fire at the company's plant resulted from a tank of compressed air being filled with inflammable material, belonging to the gaslight company. The suit is filed to the use of five insurance companies which had policies on the furniture and equipment destroyed by the fire.
